Crisis at Work J. Potter, 2015-06-09 This book explores how we make sense of ourselves when work is precarious and intrinsically alienating We know little about how this experience of work impacts the lives of men and women and less about the way individuals understand themselves in the face of institutions and organizations from which they feel marginalized Based on the narratives of men and women who underwent extraordinary work life changes Crisis at Work examines how we negotiate greater meaning and fulfilment when our productive lives fail to sustain and satisfy Reflecting a growing fracture between what we value believe in and are committed to and the degree to which work and career have become incapable of assuaging those desires Potter examines how individuals attempt to assemble working lives they find rich and rewarding and how that work is negotiated within the constraints and possibilities of the contemporary moment

Strategies of Representation in Auto/biography M. Hove, Kgomotso Masemola, 2014-05-13 Strategies of Representation in Auto biography investigates how selves are represented and reconstructed in selected auto biographical readings from African literary discourse It examines how such representations confirm validate interrogate and pervade conversations with issues of identity nation and history In addition to providing an overview of the multidimensionality of auto biography the book also introduces readers to various ways of reading and analysing auto biographical writings and develops specific perspectives on the genre and views inherently expressed through the re imagined re membered and re constructed self that speaks through the pages of autobiographical scripting The focus on auto biographical writings from southern Africa specifically South Africa and Zimbabwe offers a fresh reading of the work of significant figures in the political economic and sociological spheres of these nation states This collection shows that auto biography may be more than simply the representation of an individual life and that the socio cultural memory of a people is a core aspect influencing individual self representation

The Letters of Psellos Michael Jeffreys, Marc D. Lauxtermann, 2016-12-01 The Letters of Psellos is the first detailed study of the correspondence of Michael Psellos a leading Byzantine intellectual politician and writer of the eleventh century Psellos corpus of over 500 letters represents a historical source of great significance for the study of society and culture of the time literary masterpieces in and of themselves yet often complex and difficult to understand in their entirety they not only rebound with subtlety and humour but also offer invaluable information on myriad subjects ranging from the political culture of Byzantium and its civil administration to social codes religious beliefs and popular culture This volume consists of two complementary parts designed to make Psellos letters as widely accessible as possible both to the specialist academic community and to a wider non specialist audience The first part contains five essays offering detailed historical and literary analyses of a considerable number of the letters across a range of different topics including the financial management of monasteries the friendship of Psellos and John Mauropous and the challenges posed by Psellian irony While the essays are supplemented by individual appendices containing the translated text of the pertinent letters the second part of the book presents annotated summaries in English of the entirety of Psellos correspondence compiled over many years as part of the Prosopography of the Byzantine World project and supported by substantial excursuses and notes The result is an engaging and accessible shortcut into these bewildering and fascinating letters and an essential resource for the study of eleventh century Byzantine society and culture through the pen of one of its pre eminent figures Music and Metaphor in Nineteenth-Century British Musicology Bennett Zon,2017-07-05 In a word I shall endeavour to show how our music having been originally a shell fish with its restrictive skeleton on the outside and no soul within has been developed by the inevitable laws of evolution through natural selection and the survival of the fittest into something human even divine with the strong logical skeleton of its science inside the fair flesh of God given beauty outside and the whole like man himself animated by a celestial eternal spirit W J Henderson The Story of Music 1889 Critical writing about music and music history in nineteenth century Britain was permeated with metaphor and analogy Music and Metaphor examines how over arching theories of music history were affected by reference to various figurative linguistic templates adopted from other disciplines such as art religion politics and science Each section of the book discusses a wide range of musicological writings and their correspondence with the language used to convey contemporary ideas such as the sublime the ancient and modern debate and in particular the theory of evolution Bennett Zon reveals that through their application of metaphorical frameworks taken from art religion and science these writers and their work shed light on nineteenth century perceptions of music history and illuminate the ways in which these disciplines affected notions of musical development
