Uncertainties in Environmental Modelling and Consequences for Policy Making Philippe Baveye, Jaroslav Mysiak, Magdelaine Laba, 2009-05-14 Mathematical modelling has become in recent years an essential tool for the prediction of environmental change and for the development of sustainable policies Yet many of the uncertainties associated with modelling efforts appear poorly understood by many especially by policy makers This book attempts for the first time to cover the full range of issues related to model uncertainties from the subjectivity of setting up a conceptual model of a given system all the way to communicating the nature of model uncertainties to non scientists and accounting for model uncertainties in policy decisions Theoretical chapters providing background information on specific steps in the modelling process and in the adoption of models by end users are complemented by illustrative case studies dealing with soils and global climate change All the chapters are authored by recognized experts in their respective disciplines and provide a timely and uniquely comprehensive coverage of an important field The Moral Ecology of South Africa's Township Youth S. Swartz, 2009-11-23 This book provides an engaging account of the moral lives of young black South Africans once the struggle against apartheid ended and took away their object of political resistance It shows how partial parenting partial schooling and pervasive poverty contributes to how a group of young people construct right and wrong and what rules govern their behavior National Youth Development Agency Annual Report South Africa. National Youth Development Agency,2016 Relatively and Philosophically Earnest Bharath Sriraman,Simon Goodchild,2009-10-01 Paul Ernest's name is synonymous with social constructivism as a philosophy of mathematics His contributions to mathematics education have occurred at a very fundamental level and to a extent shaped theory development in this field His research addresses fundamental questions about the nature of mathematics and how it relates to teaching learning and society For the last three decades Paul has been a prolific scholar who has published in a wide array of topics such as the relationship between the philosophy of mathematics and mathematics education and more generally the philosophy of mathematics education ethics and values in mathematics education and the philosophy of research methodology The title of this Festschrift is meant to be a pun to convey the sometimes relativistic dimension to mathematical certainty that Paul argued for in developing his philosophy and also a play on words for the fact that absolute earnestness may perhaps be a Platonic construct and not possible in the realm of language and human discourse Paul Ernest's scholarly evolution and life can best be summarized in the words of Walt Whitman Do I contradict myself Very well then I contradict myself I am large I contain multitudes Indeed his presence has been large and multitudinous and this Festschrift celebrates his 65th Birthday with numerous contributions coming from the mathematics philosophy and mathematics education communities around the world

Correspondence and Other Contemporary Letters Preserved Smith, Charles M. Jacobs, 2009-03-24 Advances in monitoring the economy Rene Segers, 2009 Monitoring involves the collection analysis and evaluation of information over time For many professionals monitoring is a central aspect of their work For example policy makers closely watch the effects of their current policies to set the right course for reform Likewise physicians monitor the well being of their patients to adjust their treatments when necessary In business financial investors monitor stock prices and interest rates to optimally time their investments while marketing managers watch their customers needs and wants to frame their marketing efforts The above examples illustrate that monitoring is crucial in many disciplines to make the right decisions at the right moment For this reason there has always been a need for improved monitoring methods With the advent of increasingly powerful computers and advanced analytical techniques monitoring systems can nowadays process large amounts of information and have become fully automated where desired A large body of monitoring methods originate from academics Especially during the past four decades many insights from various fields such as economics statistics psychometrics and econometrics found their way into everyday monitoring practice With the overwhelming availability of information in some cases but also the intrinsic lack of information in other cases the area is continuously faced with new and highly relevant research challenges The aim of this thesis is to contribute to the development of new monitoring methods by offering potential solutions to some of these challenges The challenges studied in this thesis arise from all three aspects of monitoring that is from the collection the analysis as well as from the evaluation of information New Statesman ,1948 New Statesman and Nation ,1952
