Au Départ. Husserl, Heidegger, Gaboriau France ROLLIN, Martin Heidegger, 1967 Husserl, Heidegger, and the Space of Meaning Steven Galt Crowell, 2001-04-14 Crowell philosophy German studies Rice U presents a dozen previously published papers grouped together with an introduction and one new chapter Individual papers discuss the work of Emil Lask and Eugen Fink the central topics are issues that concern transcendental phenomenology especially its importance in constructing the philosophical explanation of the space of meaning Heidegger's use of the work of Husserl the affinities between the two philosophers and the importance of neo-Kantian transcendental philosophy on the young Heidegger are described in detail Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Intentionality in Husserl and Heidegger B.C. Hopkins, 1993-01-31 This book reassesses the phenomenological controversy between Husserl and Heidegger over the proper status of the phenomenon of intentionality It seeks to determine whether Heidegger's hermeneutical critique of intentionality is sensitive to Husserl's reflective account of its Sachen selbst Hopkins argues that Heidegger's critique is directed toward the cogito modality of intentionality and therefore passes over its non-actional or horizontal dimension in Husserl's phenomenology As a result of this he concludes that Heidegger misinterprets Husserl's account of the intentional immanence exhibited by phenomenological reflection On the basis of these findings Hopkins suggests that the phenomenological methodology operative in the so called hermeneutic critique of transcendental consciousness itself involves transcendental presuppositions that are most appropriately characterized in terms of intentional and reflective phenomena Étant donné Jean-Luc Marion,2005-01-10 Pour une part essentielle la phénoménologie assume en notre siècle le rôle même de la philosophie La démarche de l'auteur est premièrement d'écrire la phénoménologie deuxièmement redéfinir le don contre son interprétation économique partir de la pure donation ensuite d'élucider les caractères du phénomène comme un strict donné enfin distinguer les degrés de donation du donné tant donné constitue ainsi le premier élément d'un triptyque formé par Réduction et donation 2e éd Puf 2004 complété et commenté par Descripteurs sur les phénomènes saturés Puf 2001 *De Husserl À Merleau-Ponty.
