Autobiography

4 December 2012

My name is Maria Angelina Bacarella. I was born on March 7, 1995, in Tawas City, Michigan. My parents are James and Michelle Bacarella, and I have three younger siblings, Sophia, Alex, and Samuel. I attended Holy Family Catholic School in East Tawas from kindergarten until sixth grade. While there I participated in band, choir, Girl Scouts, Council of Catholic Girls, volleyball, softball, and basketball. I was on honor roll and received an academic achievement award. Attending a catholic school helped me to grow academically, in my faith, and as a person, giving me high moral standards. In seventh and eighth grade I attended Tawas Junior High. I was involved in volleyball, basketball, softball, and Club PRIDE. I was on honor roll every semester, and received the presidential academic award.

I currently attend Tawas High School. I am involved in Iosco Pride, Spanish club, liturgical dance, youth group, Student Senate, volleyball, soccer, and National Honor Society. I currently have a 3.88 cumulative g.p.a. and am 8th in my class of 117. Though my school, I go to coop every day for two hours in the 81st District court. While there I have learned many school that pertain to a future career in law. I file papers, type bonds, and observe court. This has given me first-hand experience identifying legal documents and understanding how to proceed in court.

I have am very motivated to create the best possible future for myself, and have worked very hard to set that up. I have been on the honor roll every marking period thus far in my high school career. I received my academic and athletics varsity letters, an honors pass, the hustle

Portfolio Development and the Assessment of Prior Learning Elana

Michelson, Alan Mandell, 2023-08-11 For over thirty years portfolios have been used to help adult learners gain recognition for their prior learning and take greater control of their educational experiences The portfolio has become a distinctive means of assessing such learning serving as a meaningful alternative to conventional papers and standardized testing Portfolio Development and the Assessment of Prior Learning Perspectives Models and Practices provides a primer of flexible approaches to shaping and conducting portfolio development courses It offers practitioners in the field an extensive range of model assignments readings and classroom activities each organized around a specific theme Academic Orientation The Meaning of Education Personal Exploration Learning from the Outsider Within The World of Work and Careers and Dimensions of Expertise Twelve case studies by practitioners in the field then show how academics in the US and around the English speaking world have adapted the portfolio to changing circumstances in order to deliver academically rich educational services for adults These case studies highlight portfolio development in the context of web based instruction changing institutional imperatives service to historically disenfranchised groups partnerships with industry and cross institutional cooperation In addition to serving as a valuable hands on resource for practitioners Portfolio Development and the Assessment of Prior Learning locates portfolios and assessment in a broad social and intellectual context Thus the authors also offer an historical overview of the usefulness of portfolios in the assessment of prior learning and then consider their use in the future given current trends in higher education for adults The book explores the implications of a changing educational landscape in which new student populations budgetary pressures and understandings of knowledge both enrich and challenge student centered approaches such as portfolios The approaches and case studies are not only valuable to adult educators but equally to faculty in higher education concerned with the development of competency and outcomes based assessment

Proletarian Imagination Mark D. Steinberg, 2018-05-31 In fin de si cle and early revolutionary Russia a group of self educated workers produced a large body of poetry and prose in which they attempted to comprehend their rapidly changing world Witnesses to wars and revolution these men and women grappled on paper with the nature of civilization and the imperatives of ethical truth In a strikingly original approach to Russian culture Mark D Steinberg listens to their words which are little known today The results of their literary creativity he finds were frequently not what the new Soviet order was expecting from its workers despite its celebration of the notion of a proletarian art Through insightful readings of a vast fund of lower class writings Steinberg shows that the authors focused above all on the uncertain nature and place of the self the promise and dangers of modernity and the qualities of the sacred in both their lives and their imaginations Like their counterparts in the intelligentsia these worker writers were ambivalent about Marxist ideology s celebration of the city and the factory and even about modern progress itself Drawing on vast research Steinberg demonstrates the texts significance for an understanding of Russian popular mentalities indeed for the very meaning philosophically and morally of these years of crisis and possibility at the end of the old order and the early years of the Soviet regime Creating Safe Space Tomoko Kuribayashi, Julie Ann Tharp, 1998-01-01 An anthology of literary essays focusing on the ways in which sexual emotional physical racial and other forms of violence have affected women artists imaginations A Writer's Workbook Teacher's Manual Trudy Smoke, 2005-08-22 This is a comprehensive academic writing skills book that includes authentic readings and a study of grammar A Contemporary Autobiography of a Science Educator Scott D. Robinson, 2008-01-01 A Contemporary Autobiography of a Science Educator reminds readers that they teach who they are and understanding who they are is fundamental for meaningful communication and effective classroom instruction The book is for science educators teacher educators and others who wish to examine their own personal and professional identities in the social and cultural contexts in which their lives are embedded Just as teaching can be viewed as relationship with others this contemporary autobiography is situated on the significance of relationship with self As a contemporary autobiography the narrative reveals the author s subjective truths while digging deeply into psychosocial motives of power and intimacy The author reflects on his personal choices and career decisions that led him into and out of high school science teaching The book contains stories and reflections from summer work camp experiences undergraduate college days teacher preparation episodes and high school science teaching Story themes are diversity and leadership group identity and motivation urban teaching and teacher preparation and high school science teaching These themes evolve out of nuclear episodes of the author s storied life that brings present day understanding and meaning from past actions and interactions This kind of critical introspection may hold special relevance for teachers teacher educators and others who wish to make their own identities salient and relevant to their own needs and interests as well as the needs and interests of students teacher candidates and clients whom they serve

Anthropocene Ina Batzke, Lea Espinoza Garrido, Linda M. Hess, 2022-01-01 Life Writing in the Posthuman Anthropocene is a timely collection of insightful contributions that negotiate how the genre of life writing traditionally tied to the human perspective and thus anthropocentric qua definition can provide adequate perspectives for an age of ecological disasters and global climate change The volume's eight chapters illustrate the aptness of life writing and life writing studies to critically reevaluate the role of the human vis vis non human others while remaining mindful of persisting inequalities between humans regarding who causes and who suffers damage in the Anthropocene age The authors in this collection not only expand the toolbox of life writing studies by engaging with critical insights from the fields of posthumanism and ecocriticism but in turn also enrich those fields by offering unique approaches to contemplate the responsibility of humans for as well as their relational existence in the posthuman Anthropocene      Historicizing Life-Writing and Egodocuments in Early Modern Europe James R. Farr, Guido Ruggiero, 2022-01-12 This volume historicizes the study of life writing and egodocuments focusing on early modern European reflections on the self self fashioning and identity Life writing and the study of egodocuments currently tend to be viewed as separate fields yet the individual as a purposive social actor provides significant common ground and offers a vehicle both theoretical and practical for a profitable synthesis of the two in a historical context Echoing scholars from a wide range of disciplines who recognize the uncertainty of the nature of the self these essays question the notion of the autonomous self and the attendant idea of continuous identity unfolding in a unified personality Instead they suggest that the early modern self was variable and unstable and can only be grasped by exploring selves situated in specific historical and social cultural contexts and revealed through the wide range of historical documents considered here The three sections of the volume consider first the theoretical contexts of understanding egodocuments in early modern Europe then the practical ways egodocuments from the period may be used for writing life histories today and finally a wider range of historical documents that might be added to what are usually seen as egodocuments      A History of

Autofiction Alexandra Effe, 2025-10-02 Mapping the largely neglected history of autofictional literature and describing developments against socio historical changes cultural trends and philosophical psychological discussions around self and mind this book both explores and historicizes autofiction's contemporary boom Beginning with the genre's emergence in 18th century England against changes in publishing culture and author concept and then tracing forms and functions of autofictional literature up to the contemporary moment A History of Autofiction highlights why select narrative strategies are abandoned transformed or repurposed which forms affordances and effects of autofictional modes are persistent and which were particular to a given period With focus on salient authors and texts from anglophone autofiction around the world and shining spotlights on insightful socio historical and biographical contexts Alexandra Effe foregrounds autofictional elements of works not previously considered for these dimensions and offers fresh perspectives on a range of canonical autofictional texts interdisciplinary in approach the book sheds light on autofictional phenomena through research in neuroscience psychology and philosophy of mind while demonstrating that autofictional literature holds insights for cognitive science Developing a cognitive holistic approach to the triad of author text and reader the book allows for a novel and more encompassing understanding of an important current cultural trend and of its diachronic development Work in Progress Martha J.
