Objective Summary: Introduction

International Development agencies typically will have devised the objective summary that best represents the main idea of the passage. Therefore, as a reader, you should focus on the main message of the passage, not on the details, including personal opinions or interpretations.

Article 1: The Critical Role of Research in Crop Production

Researchers have identified that agricultural growth, both a critical position in the global economy. They identify as essential production for crops, including various fruits, vegetables, and grains. They note that while the world's population grows, the demand for food also grows. To meet this demand, researchers are working to develop new crops that can produce the maximum yield of crops. This process is fundamental in creating food from seed.

The world's crop production is currently under threat from a number of factors. The most serious are climate change, soil degradation, and agricultural pests. It is difficult to see the future, but the first step is to understand the world's current crop production. The world's crop production is currently under threat from a number of factors.
