

Populations Distribution

How does population distribution differ from environment?

Activity

Florida encompasses 22 million acres of agricultural land, but it is the largest state in the United States, with a population of nearly 22 million people. Why does agricultural land in Florida, Texas, and Kansas account for most of the land area and lower farm population in each? How does farm density differ? How do the 10 highest farm land acres are concentrated geographically? What are the reasons for the high population density regions geographically when other agricultural areas are abundant?
