Everest, H. (2003). Paper and Rock: Living the American Dream. New York: HH and Company.

In this book, the author presents a so-defined experiential research, attempting to determine whether it is highly possible for an individual to live as a minimum wage earner in the USA.

Peters, R. (2005). The Cost of Living in America- Expensive or Not? California: AA Publishing.

As an experienced journalist, Peters is completely aware of all the limitations in her experiment, including ethical implications involved. As such, she presents a clear debate in identifying whether the cost of living in America is considered as expensive or not.

Diethers, O. (2004). Why More People Want to Enter America. Ohio: Stem Press.

The author is forthcoming when it comes to explaining her methods, supplementing all of her experiences with scholarly and experimental research on her workplace, the economy, as well as the documented increasing cost of living in the USA.

Digital Storytelling as Public History Christina Fisanick,Robert O. Stakeley,2020-12-23 Digital Storytelling as Public History A Guidebook for Educators provides a practical methodology for teaching public history in the digital age Drawing on a long standing collaboration Fisanick and Stakeley examine how and why educators in all arenas should adopt digital storytelling as a means for encouraging interest in local and regional history The book shows readers how to implement the strategies necessary to help storytellers in a variety of settings create short films that showcase the collections at local and regional historical societies and museums It also teaches storytellers higher executive functions such as independent project management peer and self critique and rhetorical savviness By guiding storytellers through this process of creating public history digital stories the book enables them to become connected to communities improve their understanding of regional history and expand their knowledge of the preservation of historical artifacts Supported by online handouts and offering a comprehensive methodology for educators this is the ideal guide for those teaching public history in the digital age across a range of educational settings including the classroom museum and community

Writing the Classroom Stephen E. Neaderhiser, 2022-11-21 Writing the Classroom explores how faculty compose and use pedagogical documents to establish classroom expectations and teaching practices as well as to articulate the professional identities they perform both inside and outside the classroom The contributors to this unique collection employ a wide range of methodological frameworks to demonstrate how pedagogical genres even ones as seemingly straightforward as the class syllabus have lives extending well beyond the classroom as they become part of how college teachers represent their own academic identities advocate for pedagogical values and negotiate the many external forces that influence the act of teaching Writing the Classroom shines a light on genres that are often treated as two dimensional with purely functional purposes arguing instead that genres like assignment prompts course proposals teaching statements and policy documents play a fundamental role in constructing the classroom and the broader pedagogical enterprise within academia Writing the Classroom calls on experienced teachers and faculty administrators to critically consider their own engagement with pedagogical genres and offers graduate students and newer faculty insight into the genres that they may only now be learning to inhabit as they seek to establish their personal teacherly identities It showcases the rhetorical complexity of the genres written in the service of pedagogy not only for students but also for the many other audiences within academia that have a role in shaping the experience of teaching Contributors Michael Albright Lora Arduser Lesley Erin Bartlett Logan Bearden Lindsay Clark Dana Comi Zack K De Piero Matt Dowell Amy Ferdinandt Stolley Mark A Hannah Megan Knight Laura R Micciche Cindy Mooty Dustin Morris Kate Navickas Kate Nesbit Jim Nugent Lori A Ostergaard Cynthia Pengilly Jessica Rivera Mueller Christina Saidy Megan Schoen Virginia Schwarz Christopher Toth
