Made Us Human* Penelope Spikins,2015-05-07 An intriguing look at how our capacity to care about and connect with others has contributed to our evolutionary success as a species Our ability to care about the wellbeing of others whether they are close family or strangers can appear to be unimportant in today s competitive societies But in this volume archaeologist Penny Spikins argues that compassion lies at the heart of what makes us human She takes us on a journey from the earliest Stone Age societies two million years ago to the lives of Neanderthals in Ice Age Europe using archaeological evidence to illustrate the central role that emotional connections had in human evolution Simple acts of kindness left to us from millions of years ago provide evidence for how social emotions and morality evolved and how our capacity to reach out beyond ourselves into the lives of others allowed us to work together for a common good and form the basis for human success

Engineering Response to Climate Change, Second Edition Robert G. Watts, 2013-03-22 A clear concise discussion of today's hottest topics in climate change including adapting to climate change and geo engineering to mitigate the effects of change. Engineering Response to Climate Change Second Edition takes on the tough questions of what to do and offers real solutions to the practical problems caused by radical changes in the Earth's climate. From energy consumption and carbon dioxide emissions reduction to climate altering technologies this new edition explores the latest concerns such as acidification of the ocean energy efficiency transportation space solar power and future and emerging possibilities. The editors set the stage by discussing the separate issues of the emissions of radiatively important atmospheric constituents energy demand energy supply agriculture water resources coastal hazards adaption strategies and geo engineering. They explain the difference between the natural and human drivers of climate change and describe how humans have influenced the global climate during past decades. Each chapter concludes with discussion questions calculations and possible research topics. See What's in the Second Edition New conceptual tools and research necessary for problems associated with fossil fuels. Cutting edge topics such as adaption and geo engineering. The latest concerns such as acidification of the ocean energy efficiency transportation and space solar power. Solutions to problems caused by changes in the Earth's climate. So much has changed in the 15 years since the publication of the first edition that this is in effect a completely new book. However the general theme is the same the climate energy problem has become largely an engineering problem. With this in mind the book explores what engineers can do to prevent mitigate or adapt to climate change.
