TUTOR MATERIAL

PRINCIPLES RELATING TO THE MARKING OF LIFE SCIENCES

- 1. If more information than marks allocated is given
Stop marking when maximum number of marks is reached and place a wavy line and 'max' in the right-hand margin.
- 2. If, for example, three reasons are required and five are given Mark only the first three irrespective of whether all or some are correct/incorrect.
- 3. If whole process is given when only part of it is required
Read all and credit relevant part.
- 4. If comparisons are asked for and descriptions are given
Accept if differences / similarities are clear.
- 5. If tabulation is required but paragraphs are given
Candidates will lose marks for not tabulating.
- 6. If diagrams are given with annotations when descriptions are required
Candidates will lose marks.
- 7. If flow charts are given instead of descriptions
Candidates will lose marks.

November 2013 Lifescience Memo

Mike Jess

November 2013 Lifescience Memo:

NASA Technical Memorandum ,1988 Risk Regulation in the Internal Market Maria Weimer,2019-03-13 This book offers a topical inquiry into the legal and political limits of EU regulation in the field of risk and new technologies surrounded by techno scientific complexity uncertainty and societal contestation It uses agricultural biotechnology as a paradigmatic example to illustrate the complex intertwinement between environmental public health economic and social concerns in risk regulation Weimer analyses the drawbacks of the EU approach to agricultural biotechnology showing that its reductionism i e the narrow understanding of GMO risks as well as the exclusion of broader societal concerns related to environmental and social sustainability has undermined both the legitimacy and effectiveness of EU regulation in this area Resistance to this approach however has also triggered legal innovations prompting us to re think EU internal market law including the way in which it manages the tensions between unity and diversity and between social and economic concerns This text offers fresh and original insights into how far the EU can go in harmonizing regulatory approaches to risk At the same time it proposes new ways of re thinking EU risk regulation to make it more responsive to different perspectives on risk and technology A unique feature of this book is that it contributes to various strains of scholarship including risk regulation internal market law public administration and studies of governance and regulation as well as connecting these themes to broader debates about the legitimacy of European integration and new ways of differentiated integration As a result it assists in re imagining the EU internal market and its regulation as a site of diversity

Science, the State and the City Geoffrey Owen,Michael M. Hopkins,2016-04-15 The book examines the evolution of one of the most important technologies that has emerged in the last fifty years biotechnology the use of living organisms or parts thereof to create useful products and services The most important application of biotechnology has been in medicine in the development of new drugs The central purpose of the book is to explain how firms based in the US took the lead in commercialising the technology and why it has been so difficult for firms in other countries to match what the leading American companies have achieved The book looks at the institutions and policies which have underpinned US success in biotechnology This is the US innovation ecosystem and it is made up of several interlocking elements which constitute a powerful competitive advantage for US biotechnology firms These include a higher education system which has close links with industry massive support from the Federal government for biomedical research and a financial system which is well equipped to support young entrepreneurial firms in a science based industry In the light of US experience the book examines in detail the performance of UK biotechnology firms over the past forty years starting with the creation of the UK s first dedicated biotech firm Celltech in 1980 The book shows how the UK made a promising start in the 1980s and 1990s but failed to build on it Several leading firms failed and after an initial burst of enthusiasm investors lost confidence in the British biotech sector It is only the last few years that the sector has staged a revival attracting fresh investment from the US as well from the UK The story told in this book based on extensive interviews with industry participants investors and policy makers in the UK Continental Europe and the US sheds new light on one of the central issues facing governments in the advanced industrial countries how to create and sustain new science based industries Space Studies Board Annual Report 2013 National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Space Studies Board, 2014-04-09 The original charter of the Space Science Board was established in June 1958 3 months before the National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA opened its doors The Space Science Board and its successor the Space Studies Board SSB have provided expert external and independent scientific and programmatic advice to NASA on a continuous basis from NASA's inception until the present The SSB has also provided such advice to other executive branch agencies including the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration NOAA the National Science Foundation NSF the U S Geological Survey USGS the Department of Defense as well as to Congress Space Studies Board Annual Report 2013 covers a message from the chair of the SSB Charles F Kennel This report also explains the origins of the Space Science Board how the Space Studies Board functions today the SSB's collaboration with other National Research Council units assures the quality of the SSB reports acknowledges the audience and sponsors and expresses the necessity to enhance the outreach and improve dissemination of SSB reports This report will be relevant to a full range of government audiences in civilian space research including NASA NSF NOAA USGS and the Department of Energy as well members of the SSB policy makers and researchers Department of Defense's Challenges in Accounting for Missing Persons from Past Conflicts United States. Global Transformations in the Life Sciences, 1945-1980 Patrick Manning, Mat Savelli, 2018-06-07 The second half of the twentieth century brought extraordinary transformations in knowledge and practice of the life sciences In an era of decolonization mass social welfare policies and the formation of new international institutions such as UNESCO and the WHO monumental advances were made in both theoretical and practical applications of the life sciences including the discovery of life's molecular processes and substantive improvements in global public health and medicine Combining perspectives from the history of science and world history this volume examines the impact of major world historical processes of the postwar period on the evolution of the life sciences Contributors consider the long term evolution of scientific practice research and innovation across a range of fields and subfields in the life sciences and in the context of Cold War anxieties and ambitions Together they examine how the formation of international organizations and global research programs allowed for transnational exchange and cooperation but in a period rife with competition and nationalist interests which influenced dramatic changes in the field as the postcolonial world order unfolded Explaining Life through Evolution Prosanta Chakrabarty, 2023-08-08 Discover the origin story of life on this planet in this fascinating exploration of the science of evolution and why it matters to our future and daily lives Prosanta Chakrabarty explains evolution in a concise accessible and engaging way emphasizing the importance of understanding evolution in everyday contemporary life Weaving his own lived experience among discussions of Darwin and the origins of evolutionary thought Chakrabarty covers key concepts to our understanding of our current condition including mutation the spectrum of race sex gender and sexuality the limitations of ancestry tests and the evolution of viruses like SARS CoV 2 the virus at the heart of the COVID 19 pandemic Offering a contemporary update to classic popular evolution books by Stephen Jay Gould and Jerry Coyne Explaining Life through Evolution is not only an illuminating read but also an essential guide to the kind of scientific literacy needed to face the challenges of our collective future

Life in Space Maura Phillips Mackowski, 2022-05-24 This book explores the many aspects and outcomes of NASA's research in life sciences a little understood endeavor that has often been overlooked in histories of the space agency

A History of Scientific Journals Aileen Fyfe, Noah Moxham, Julie McDougall-Waters, Camilla Mørk Røstvik, 2022-10-03 Modern scientific research has changed so much since Isaac Newton's day it is more professional collaborative and international with more complicated equipment and a more diverse community of researchers Yet the use of scientific journals to report share and store results is a thread that runs through the history of science from Newton's day to ours Scientific journals are now central to academic research and careers Their editorial and peer review processes act as a check on new claims and findings and researchers build their careers on the list of journal articles they have published The journal that reported Newton's optical experiments still exists First published in 1665 and now fully digital the Philosophical Transactions has carried papers by Charles Darwin Dorothy Hodgkin and Stephen Hawking It is now one of eleven journals published by the Royal Society of London Unrivalled insights from the Royal Society's comprehensive archives have enabled the authors to investigate more than 350 years of scientific journal publishing The editorial management business practices and financial difficulties of the Philosophical Transactions and its sibling Proceedings reveal the meaning and purpose of journals in a changing scientific community At a time when we are surrounded by calls to reform the academic publishing system it has never been more urgent that we understand its history

The elephant and the dragon in contemporary life sciences Joy Y. Zhang, Saheli Datta Burton, 2022-03-15 This book provides a powerful diagnosis of why the global governance of science struggles in the face of emerging powers Through unpacking critical events in China and India over the past twenty years it demonstrates that the subversiveness assumed in the two countries rise in the life sciences reflects many of the regulatory challenges that are shared worldwide It points to a decolonial imperative for science governance to be responsive and effective in a cosmopolitan world By highlighting epistemic injustice within contemporary science the book extends theories of decolonisation
