Psychosocial Perspectives on Peacebuilding Brandon Hamber, Elizabeth Gallagher, 2014-11-04 The book Psychosocial Perspectives on Peacebuilding offers a template for those dealing with the aftermath of armed conflict to look at peacebuilding through a psychosocial lens This Volume and the case studies that are in it starts from the premise that armed conflict and the political violence that flows from it are deeply contextual and that in dealing with the impact of armed conflict context matters The book argues for a conceptual shift in which psychosocial practices are not merely about treating individuals and groups with context and culturally sensitive methods and approaches the contributors argue that such interventions and practices should in themselves shape social change This is of critical importance because the psychosocial method continually highlights how the social context is one of the primary causes of individual psychological distress The chapters in this book describe experiences within very different contexts including Guatemala Jerusalem Indian Kashmir Mozambique Northern Ireland South Africa and Sri Lanka The common thread between the case studies is that they each show how psychosocial interventions and practices can influence the peacebuilding environment and foster wider social change Psychosocial Perspectives on Peacebuilding is essential reading for social and peace psychologists as well as for students and researchers in the field of conflict and peace studies and for psychosocial practitioners and those working in post conflict areas for NGO s

Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility UN-Habitat, 2013-10-30 Urban transport systems worldwide are faced by a multitude of challenges Among the most visible of these are the traffic gridlocks experienced on city roads and highways all over the world The prescribed solution to transport problems in most cities has thus been to build more infrastructures for cars with a limited number of cities improving public transport systems in a sustainable manner However a number of challenges faced by urban transport systems such as greenhouse gas emissions noise and air pollution and road traffic accidents do not necessarily get solved by the construction of new infrastructure Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility argues that the development of sustainable urban transport systems requires a conceptual leap The purpose of transportation and mobility is to gain access to destinations activities services and goods Thus access is the ultimate objective of transportation As a result urban planning and design should focus on how to bring people and places together by creating cities that focus on accessibility rather than simply increasing the length of urban transport infrastructure or increasing the movement of people or goods Urban form and the functionality of the city are therefore a major focus of this report which highlights the importance of integrated land use and transport planning This new report of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme UN Habitat the world's leading authority on urban issues provides some thought provoking insights and policy recommendations on how to plan and design sustainable urban mobility systems The Global Report on Human Settlements is the most authoritative and up to date global assessment of human settlements conditions and trends Preceding issues of the report have addressed such topics as Cities in a Globalizing World The Challenge of Slums Financing Urban Shelter Enhancing Urban Safety and Security Planning Sustainable Cities and Cities and Climate Change Cities and Sustainable Technology Transitions Marina van Geenhuizen,Adam Holbrook,Mozhdeh Taheri,2018-06-29 This enlightening book elucidates the leadership challenges of various cities in emerging transitions towards higher levels of sustainability It examines elements of three socio technical systems energy transport and healthcare while addressing technology invention commercialization mass production and adoption The book breaks new ground in the analysis of topical issues such as local cradle conditions incentive schemes niche development living labs impact bonds grass roots intermediation and adaptive policy making It offers a broad coverage of global systems of cities with a particular focus on Scandinavia Germany the Netherlands China Korea Japan the US and Canada

Survival: October - November 2022 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS),2023-04-21 Survival the IISS s bimonthly journal challenges conventional wisdom and brings fresh often controversial perspectives on strategic issues of the moment In this issue Marcus Willet argues that the Russia Ukraine war reveals much about the nature of cyber warfare including the battle for hearts and minds and the role of vigilantes Angela Stent contends that Putin badly misjudged how Germany would respond to the war in Ukraine in failing to anticipate that Olaf Scholz would provisionally jettison Ostpolitik Jude Blanchette and Evan S Medeiros assess likely drivers and characteristics of Xi Jinping s upcoming third term as Chinese leader Nicholas Crawford and David F Gordon make the case that the green energy transition is essential despite new geopolitical risks caused by greenflation Nigel Gould Davies examines the recent foreign policy failures of Belarus and Russia and sets out three lessons for a post war order in the region And five more thought provoking pieces as well as our regular Book Reviews and Noteworthy column India China L.H.M. Ling,Adriana Erthal Abdenur,Payal Banerjee,Nimmi Kurian,Mahendra P. Lama,Li Bo,2021-03-11 Challenging the Westphalian view of international relations which focuses on the sovereignty of states and the inevitable potential for conflict the authors from the Borderlands Study Group reconceive borders as capillaries enabling the flow of material cultural and social benefits through local communities nation states and entire regions By emphasizing local agency and regional interdependencies this metaphor reconfigures current narratives about the China India border and opens a new perspective on the long history of the Silk Roads the modern BCIM Initiative and dam construction along the Nu River in China and the Teesta River in India Together the authors show that positive interaction among people on both sides of a border generates larger cross border communities which can pressure for cooperation and development India China offers the hope that people divided by arbitrary geo political boundaries can circumvent race gender class religion and other social barriers to form more inclusive institutions and forms of governance

ICMLG2016-4th International Conference on Management, Leadership and Governance Dmitry Vasilenko and Natalia Khazieva, Chinese Migrants and Africa's Development Doctor Ben Lampert,Doctor May Tan-Mullins,Daphne

Chang, Giles Mohan, 2014-06-12 China's recent stepping up of relations with Africa is one of the most significant developments on the African continent for decades. For some it promises an end to Africa's dependent aid relationships as the Chinese bring expertise, technology and a stronger business focus. But for others it is no more than a new form of imperialism. This book is the first to systematically study the motivations, relationships and impact of this migration. It focuses not just on the Chinese migrants but also on the perceptions of and linkages to their African hosts. By studying this everyday interaction we get a much richer picture of whether this is South-South cooperation as political leaders would have us believe or a more complex relationship that can both compromise and encourage African development. The Moral Economy of EU

Association with Africa Mark Langan, 2015-08-27 Africa's association with the European Union has long been hailed as a progressive model of North-South relations. European officials in particular have represented the Africa-EU partnership as a pro-poor enterprise in which trade interests are married to development prerogatives. Applying a moral economy perspective, this book examines the tangible impact of Africa-Europe trade and development co-operation on citizens in developing countries. In so doing, it challenges liberal accounts of Europe's normative power to enable benevolent change in the Global South and illuminates how EU discourse acts to legitimise unequal trade ties that have regressive consequences for the poor. Drawing upon the author's own fieldwork, it assesses the difference between norms and the actual impact of EU concessions in relation to budget support aid for trade, private sector development, PSD, decent work. It concludes by considering the value of a moral economy approach in the assessment of free trade structures more widely. This text will be of key interest to scholars and students of Africanist IPE, European studies and more broadly international political economy, international development and international relations. The segregated city: A Nordic overview Moa Tunström, Shinan

Wang, 2019-03-28 Issues related to segregation and integration are major responsibilities and challenges for cities, and a segregated urban environment can be understood as a symptom of wider social injustices. In this brief overview of current research on residential segregation, the focus is on structural reasons to segregation. This means that it is planning policies and tendencies in socio-economic development that are discussed rather than specific social integration measures and projects. But there is an obvious arena where these two approaches to segregation meet and that is in the local community and its spaces for social interaction. This is important to keep in mind that the integrated city is both a result of strategies and initiatives on a micro scale in the neighbourhood and between individuals and initiatives and development on a macro scale. This report is part of a theme on segregation within the Nordic collaboration programme for effective integration and inclusion of refugees and immigrants in the Nordic countries. Ling, 2017-02-01 Asia in International Relations decolonizes conventional understandings and representations of Asia in International Relations (IR). This book opens by including all those geographical and cultural linkages that constitute Asia today but are generally ignored by mainstream IR. Covering the Indian subcontinent

Turkey the Mediterranean Iran the Arab world Ethiopia and Central Northeast Southeast Asia the volume draws on rich literatures to develop our understanding of power relations in the world's largest continent Contributors de colonize de imperialize and de Cold War the region to articulate an alternative narrative about Asia world politics and IR This approach reframes old problems in new ways with the possibility of transforming them rather than recycling the same old approaches with the same old intractable outcomes

Carceral Worlds Hanneke Stuit, Jennifer Turner, Julianne Weegels, 2024-07-25 We live a world in which the number of prisons is growing and experiences of incarceration are increasingly widespread Carceral Worlds offers a necessary and timely contribution to understanding these carceral realities of the globalized present The book asks how the carceral has become so central in life how it manifests in different geographical locations and finally what the likely consequences are of living in such a carceral world Carceral Worlds focuses on carceral practices experiences and imaginaries that reach far beyond traditional spaces of confinement It shows the lasting effects of colonial carceral heritage the influence of prison systems on city management and the entrapping nature of digital infrastructures It also discusses new urbanized forms of migrant detention the relation between prisons and homelessness the use of carceral metaphors in the everyday and the carceral implications of the uneven distribution of climate risk across the globe The volume brings together work from scholars across the world and from a variety of disciplines in the social sciences and humanities offering a fresh approach to the carceral as a central vector in modern life

Mutant Neoliberalism William Callison, Zachary Manfredi, 2019-11-05 Tales of neoliberalism's death are serially overstated Following the financial crisis of 2008 neoliberalism was proclaimed a zombie a disgraced ideology that staggered on like an undead monster After the political ruptures of 2016 commentators were quick to announce the end of neoliberalism yet again pointing to both the global rise of far right forces and the reinvigoration of democratic socialist politics But do new political forces sound neoliberalism's death knell or will they instead catalyze new mutations in its dynamic development Mutant Neoliberalism brings together leading scholars of neoliberalism political theorists historians philosophers anthropologists and sociologists to rethink transformations in market rule and their relation to ongoing political ruptures The chapters show how years of neoliberal governance policy and depoliticization created the conditions for thriving reactionary forces while also reflecting on whether recent trends will challenge reconfigure or extend neoliberalism's reach The contributors reconsider neoliberalism's relationship with its assumed adversaries and map mutations in financialized capitalism and governance across time and space from Europe and the United States to China and India Taken together the volume recasts the stakes of contemporary debate and reorients critique and resistance within a rapidly changing landscape Contributors tienne Balibar S ren Brandes Wendy Brown Melinda Cooper Julia Elyachar Michel Feher Megan Moodie Christopher Newfield Dieter Plehwe Lisa Rofel Leslie Salzinger Quinn Slobodian
