English as a global lingua franca has given rise to new challenges and approaches in our understanding of language and communication. One area where ELF English as a lingua franca studies both from an empirical and theoretical orientation have the potential for significant developments is in our understanding of the relationships between language, culture and identity. ELF challenges traditional assumptions concerning the purported inexorable link between a language and a culture. Due to the multitude of users and contexts of ELF communication, the supposed language, culture and identity correlation often conceived at the national level appears simplistic and naïve. However, it is equally naïve to assume that ELF is a culturally and identity neutral form of communication. All communication involves participants, purposes, contexts and histories, none of which are neutral. Thus, we need new approaches to understanding the relationship between language, culture and identity which are able to account for the multifarious and dynamic nature of ELF communication.

Gender Diversity and Sexuality in English Language Education Darío Luis Banegas, Navan Govender, 2022-08-11. Runner up British Association for Applied Linguistics BAAL Book Prize 2023. This book combines teaching informed research studies and research informed teaching accounts which explore English language education that engages with a gender and a sexual diversity. Informed by critical theories, critical literacy, post-structuralism, queer theory and indigeneity/decoloniality, the critical perspectives in this volume consider gender and sexuality as dimensions of human life and aim to promote sexual, gender, emotional and relational wellbeing together with the construction of cultural horizons and citizenship. The chapters are organised around three interdependent areas of inquiry: 1. how educators design pedagogies and curriculums around gender diversity and sexuality; 2. how students and teachers navigate issues of gender diversity and sexuality in practice as well as; 3. how issues of gender diversity and sexuality are not addressed in the materials for teaching and learning English. The contributors are all teacher educators, researchers and therefore have vast experience in enacting/implementing, designing and examining the field of English language teacher education from for the classroom with a gender perspective in diverse settings. Chapters come from Argentina, Bangladesh, Canada, Germany, Norway, Poland, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Spain, Taiwan, Turkey, the UK and Uruguay.

Translation and Own-Language Use in Language Teaching Eva Skopečková, 2024-04-06. This book reconsiders the role of translation and own language use in the EFL/English as a Foreign Language classroom. It shows prospective teachers how to use the learners' own language and translation optimally. The author surveys current research about the EFL classroom and presents both a theoretical framework and a didactic model for using translation and learners' mother tongues. This is done through an action research project assessing the proposed didactic model for optimal translation practice in English Language teaching (OTP) in ELT through its integration into teacher education. The book will be of interest to students and researchers in the areas of Translation Studies and Applied Linguistics, particularly EFL, ESL, TEFL and TESOL, as well as educators and designers of pre-service training programmes for language teachers.
