Foregrounding the experiences of women migrant workers in Beirut, the text reveals how direct participation in NGO-led community programs and education empowers women to create counter-cultural communities and spaces for learning and activism. The text ultimately combines aspects of critical pedagogy, spatial analysis, and Third World feminisms to propose a critical subaltern praxis for research, development, and teaching. It will appeal to scholars and researchers with interests in research methods in education, migration, equality, and human rights, and the anthropology of education.
