Flood and Coastal Erosion Risk Management Edmund Penning-Rowsell,Sally Priest,Dennis Parker,Joe Morris,Sylvia Tunstall,Christophe Viavattene,John Chatterton,Damon Owen,2014-01-03 A new Multi Coloured Manual This book is a successor to and replacement for the highly respected manual and handbook on the benefits of flood and coastal risk management produced by the Flood Hazard Research Centre at Middlesex University UK with support from Defra and the Environment Agency It builds upon a previous book known as the multi coloured manual 2005 which itself was a synthesis of the blue 1977 red 1987 and yellow manuals 1992 As such it expands and updates this work to provide a manual of assessment techniques of flood risk management benefits indirect benefits and coastal erosion risk management benefits It has three key aims First it provides methods and data which can be used for the practical assessment of schemes and policies Secondly it describes new research to update the data and improve techniques Thirdly it explains the limitations and complications of Benefit Cost Analysis to guide decision making on investment in river and coastal risk management schemes East Asia and Food

(In)Security Shaun Breslin, Christopher W. Hughes, 2017-10-02 This book presents a study of perceptions of food insecurity in East Asia and explores how individual countries are developing strategies to deal with the situation It also looks at how the perception of food insecurity has increasingly influenced the nature of international interactions not just within East Asia but also in the region's relations with major external actors Many of the challenges facing East Asia are generic food security issues that face people and governments across the world for example the implications of climate change and demographic changes on food supplies This book places the East Asian context in the wider discussion of food in security in global politics However it also identifies potential regional differences for example the significance of rice for the region and the unavoidable impact of China as a major regional player What the Chinese state and Chinese companies decide to do in response to concerns about food insecurity have an impact not just on the rest of the region but on the rest of the world Taking too much of a Sinocentric focus however ignores other actors in East Asia or merely relegates discussion to how they respond to Chinese policies or external strategies This book considers the region as a whole both when it comes to thinking about food security challenges and responses within the region itself and also in the outward projection of regional food insecurity on the rest of the world This book was published as a special issue of The Pacific Review Indonesia's Ascent C. Roberts, A. Habir, L. Sebastian, 2015-03-10 This volume explores the domestic and transnational considerations associated with Indonesia's ascent referring to its rise in terms of hard and soft power and its likely trajectory in the future The range of contributors analyse economic resources religious harmony security regional relations leadership and foreign policy
