Senem Deviren, 2017-03-02 Contemporary architecture and the culture it reflects dependent as it is on fossil fuels has contributed to the cause and necessity of a burgeoning green process that emerged over the past half century This text is the first to offer a comprehensive critical history and analysis of the greening of architecture through accumulative reduction of negative environmental effects caused by buildings urban designs and settlements Describing the progressive development of green architecture from 1960 to 2010 it illustrates how it is ever evolving and ameliorated through alterations in form technology materials and use and it examines different places worldwide that represent a diversity of cultural and climatic contexts The book is divided into seven chapters with an overview of the environmental issues and the nature of green architecture in response to them followed by an historic perspective of the pioneering evolution of green technology and architectural integration over the past five decades and finally providing the intransigent and culturally pervasive current examples within a wide range of geographic territories The greening of architecture is seen as an evolutionary process that is informed by significant world events climate change environmental theories movements in architecture technological innovations and seminal works in architecture and planning throughout each decade over the past fifty years This time period is bounded on one end by the awareness of environmental problems beginning in the 1960 s the influential texts by Rachel Carson E F Schumacher Buckminster Fuller and Steward Brand and the impact of the OPEC Oil Embargo of 1973 and on the other end the pervasiveness of the necessary greening of architecture that includes systemic reforms in architectural and urban design land use planning transportation agriculture and energy production found in the 2000 s The greening process moves from remediation to holistic models of architecture Geographical landscapes give a global account of the greening process where some examples are parallel and sympathetic and others are in clear contrast to one another with very individuated approaches Certain events like the Rio Summit in 1992 and Kyoto Protocol in 1997 and themes such as the Hannover Principles in 2000 provide a dynamic ideological critique as well as a formal and technical discussion of the embodied and accumulative content of greening principles in architecture

The Complete Guide to Building Affordable Earth-Sheltered Homes Robert McConkey, 2011 The home an essential part of the American dream has been beset by troubles since the beginning of the Great Recession in 2007 Whether from an unstable housing economy ever rising energy costs or the environmental ruin of urban sprawl the origin and variety of these assaults can be bewildering Surprisingly some of the answers to many of these modern day troubles lie in some of humanity s most ancient building techniques Earth sheltered building has existed since the heyday of Skara Brae in Scotland 5 000 years ago and is used today by people around the world from the Yaodong of north west China to the subterranean residents of Coober Pedy Australia and even to converted missile silos in America If you have ever looked at your power bill in stunned disbelief if you are interested in green building techniques or if you want your home to stand out or hide out then this book is for you Contrary to popular misconceptions of being cramped dark or dank domiciles earth sheltered homes come in a number of different styles incorporating brilliant techniques designed to bring light and air into the home With The Complete Guide to Building Affordable Earth Sheltered Homes you will learn about the many different types of earth sheltered homes and their various advantages including a life span that can be two to three times longer than that of conventional housing inexpensive building materials and reduced maintenance costs Additionally the energy costs of an earth sheltered home can be as much as 80 percent lower than a conventional homes power costs The book will also examine the different environmental factors that you need to consider when selecting which style to build and how to begin and carry out your building process Some of the factors discussed include the different types of soil and how to adjust to them the level of precipitation and how to manage run off and how to maximise use of natural light sources Construction experts and earth sheltered home builders have been interviewed and their expertise is included in this guide to help you learn how you can create your own underground home Details of construction methods are found throughout the book including tips and advice
