The anecdote's power to produce events meanings and history forms a methodological entry to aesthetic politics. Anecdotal Evidence provides an outline of the need for and principles of anecdotal method, a case study of eco-critical themes in Hollywood films shaped by the Global Financial Crisis, and a confrontation with mass image databases of social and streaming media that, due to their scale and organisation, appear at first immune to anecdotal method. Only because the environment has a history is it possible to intervene environmentally. Because we continually misrecognise the historical production of environments, the first task of ecocritique is to bring our formative concept of ecology into crisis. Its final task will be to achieve the good life for everything connected by the historical implication of humans in ecology and ecology in humans. No politics can be undertaken in our times except through media. Ecocritical humanities have a key role in rethinking ecopolitics in the 21st century.
