Flooding

Flooding is something that can happen in almost every part of the United States. Some floods happen over many days. A flash flood can happen in just minutes.

There are two types of floods. The first type happens when a river has too much water. The water in a river rises over the river's banks.

The second type of flood happens when seawater is pushed onto land. This can happen during a hurricane or earthquake. The sudden movement of the ground can cause walls of water to rush towards shore. This type of flooding can happen very fast.

1. How can earthquakes cause flooding?

2. What is the meaning of the word sudden?

a. slow

c. movement

b. fast

d. push
