AP Environmental Science Crash Course Gayle Evans, 2011-10-01 REA's AP Environmental Science Crash Course is the first book of its kind for the last minute student or any AP student who wants a quick refresher on the course. Written by an AP Environmental Science teacher, the targeted review chapters prepare students for the test by only focusing on the important topics tested on the AP Environmental Science exam. The easy-to-read review chapters in outline format cover everything AP students need to know for the exam: human population dynamics, managing public lands, energy conservation, changes in Earth's climate, species extinction, loss of biodiversity, and more. The author also includes must-know key terms all AP students should know before test day. With our Crash Course, students can study the subject faster, learn the crucial material, and boost their AP score all in less time. The author provides key strategies for answering the multiple choice questions so students can build their point scores and get a 5.

Evolutionary Trajectories in Plant-Associated Pseudomonas and Xanthomonas Strains Marco Scortichini, Dawn Arnold, Olivier Pruvost, Marie-Agnès Jacques, Adriana J. Bernal, 2024-04-29. The strict relationships between bacteria and plants represent one of the major facets of terrestrial ecology. Depending on the type of interaction and amount of metabolic advantage one organism can obtain from such relationships, these are classified as mutualistic, commensal, or parasitic interactions. Within this context, Pseudomonas and Xanthomonas are bacterial genera with a worldwide spread capable of establishing all of the above-mentioned interactions with plants. Therefore, they represent good models for studying different lifestyles and accordingly deciphering distinct evolutionary trajectories followed by different lineages of a single genus to infect and/or to establish a mutualistic relationship with the plant. Some members of these two genera are regulated pests that are recognized as economically major threats for their host crops both in temperate and tropical environments.

Demographic Methods across the Tree of Life Roberto Salguero-Gomez, Marlène Gamelon, 2021-08-31. Demography is everywhere in our lives, from birth to death. Indeed, the universal currencies of survival, development, reproduction, and recruitment shape the performance of all species, from microbes to humans. The number of techniques for demographic data acquisition and analyses across the entire tree of life (microbes, fungi, plants, and animals) has drastically increased in recent decades. These developments have been partially facilitated by the advent of technologies such as GIS and drones, as well as analytical methods including Bayesian statistics and high-throughput molecular analyses. However, despite the universality of demography and the significant research potential that could emerge from unifying i) questions across taxa, ii) data collection protocols, and iii) analytical tools, demographic methods to date have remained taxonomically siloed and methodologically disintegrated. This is the first book to attempt a truly unified approach to demography and population ecology in order to address a wide range of questions in ecology evolution and conservation biology across the entire spectrum of life This novel book provides the reader with the fundamentals of data collection model construction analyses and interpretation across a wide repertoire of demographic techniques and protocols It introduces the novice demographer to a broad range of demographic methods including abundance based models life tables matrix population models integral projection models integrated population models individual based models and more Through the careful integration of data collection methods analytical approaches and applications clearly guided throughout with fully reproducible R scripts the book provides an up to date and authoritative overview of the most popular and effective demographic tools Demographic Methods across the Tree of Life is aimed at graduate students and professional researchers in the fields of demography ecology animal behaviour genetics evolutionary biology mathematical biology and wildlife management
