Fonstad, 2018-12-07 Mountains have captured the interests and passions of people for thousands of years Today millions of people live within mountain regions and mountain regions are often areas of accelerated environmental change This edited volume highlights new understanding of mountain environments and mountain peoples around the world The understanding of mountain environments and peoples has been a focus of individual researchers for centuries more recently the interest in mountain regions among researchers has been growing rapidly The articles contained within are from a wide spectrum of researchers from different parts of the world who address physical political theoretical social empirical environmental methodological and economic issues focused on the geography of mountains and their inhabitants The articles in this special issue are organized into three themed sections with very loose boundaries between themes 1 physical dynamics of mountain environments 2 coupled human physical dynamics and 3 sociocultural dynamics in mountain regions This book was first published as a special issue of the Annals of the American Association of Geographers A Negotiated Dialogue James Martin Weiler, 2003 Geographical Education Magazine , 1996 Routledge Library Editions: Political Geography Various, 2021-06-23 From votes to strikes to street violence politics is intrinsically geographical Many of the books in this set originally published between 1964 and 1990 illustrate that the social contexts provided by localities are crucial in defining distinctive political identities and subsequent political activities Architecture and the Urban Environment Derek Thomas, 2007-06-01 This well illustrated text forms a critical appraisal of the place and direction of architecture and urban design in a new world order at the start of the 21st century The book defines architectural and environmental goals for the New Age by analysing recent contemporary work for its responsiveness to important social and environmental issues and comparing it to successful precedents in architecture It argues that this new sustainable approach to architecture should be recognised as a new development of mainstream architectural history This practical guide illustrates current social and natural resource issues to aid architects in their approach to future design Environmental economics is presented as a potential bridge over the divide between the expectations of the business sector and the concerns of environmental lobbies Through examples and case studies an accessible analysis of carefully researched data drawn from primary sources over four continents allows the author to outline the current urgency for architects and urban designers to respond with real commitment to current and future changing contexts This book expresses a holistic vision and proposes a value system in response to the diagnosis It includes sound architectural and environmental ethics end user involvement in the design process and technological advances aimed at sustainable resource use Includes international case studies from Europe North America the Developing world including South Africa South America and Central Asia A Global History of The Earlier Palaeolithic Mark J.
