School Science Practical Work in Africa Umesh Ramnarain, 2020-06-01 School Science Practical Work in Africa presents the scope of research and practice of science practical work in African schools It brings together prominent science educators and researchers from Africa to share their experience and findings on pedagogical innovations and research informed practices on school science practical work The book highlights trends and patterns in the enactment and role of practical work across African countries Practical work is regarded as intrinsic to science teaching and learning and the form of practical work that is strongly advocated is inquiry based learning which signals a definite paradigm shift from the traditional teacher dominated to a learner centered approach The book provides empirical research on approaches to practical work contextual factors in the enactment of practical work and professional development in teaching practical work This book will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of science education and educational policy

Meeting the Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun, 2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8 Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios exhibitions and student learning objectives In each case issues related to design and development psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment Edited by leading experts these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field The Open Access version of this book available at http www taylorfrancis com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license The Politics and Governance of Basic Education Brian Levy,Robert Cameron,Ursula Hoadley,Vinothan Naidoo,2018-08-24 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations All over the world economic inclusion has risen to the top of the development discourse A well performing education system is central to achieving inclusive development but the challenge of improving educational outcomes has proven to be unexpectedly difficult Access to education has increased but quality remains low with weaknesses in governance comprising an important part of the explanation The Politics and Governance of Basic Education explores the balance between hierarchical and horizontal institutional arrangements for the public provision of basic education Using the vivid example of South Africa a country that had ambitious goals at the outset of its transition from apartheid to democracy it explores how the interaction of politics and institutions affects educational outcomes By examining lessons learned from how South Africa failed to achieve many of its goals it constructs an innovative alternative strategy for making process combining practical steps to achieve incremental gains to re orient the system towards learning Message of the President of the United States Transmitting the Budget for the Service of the Fiscal Year Ending ... United States,1938 The Underrepresentation of Women in Science: International and Cross-Disciplinary Evidence and Debate Stephen J. Ceci,Wendy M. Williams,Shulamit Kahn,2018-04-20 There is no shortage of articles and books exploring women s underrepresentation in science Everyone is interested academics politicians parents high school girls and boys women in search of college majors administrators working to accommodate women s educational interests the list goes on But one thing often missing is an evidence based examination of the problem uninfluenced by personal opinions accounts of lived experiences anecdotes and the always encroaching inputs of popular culture This is why this special issue of Frontiers in Psychology can make a difference In it a diverse group of authors and researchers with even more diverse viewpoints find themselves united by their empirical objective approaches to understanding women s underrepresentation in science today The questions considered within this special issue span academic disciplines methods levels of analysis and nature of analysis what these article share is their scholarly evidence based approach to understanding a key issue of our time The Age of STEM Brigid Freeman,Simon Marginson,Russell Tytler,2014-10-24 Across the world STEM learning and work in Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics has taken central importance in education and the economy in a way that few other disciplines have STEM competence has become seen as key to higher productivity technological adaptation and research based innovation No area of educational provision has a greater current importance than the STEM disciplines yet there is a surprising dearth of comprehensive and world wide information about STEM policy participation programs and practice The Age of STEM is a state of the art survey of the global trends and major country initiatives in STEM It gives an international overview of issues such as STEM strategy and coordination curricula teaching and assessment women in STEM indigenous students research training STEM in the graduate labour markets STEM breadth and STEM depth The individual chapters give comparative international analysis as well as a global overview particularly focusing on the growing number of policies and practices in mobilising and developing talent in the STEM fields The book will be of particular interest to anyone involved in educational policy those in education management and leaders in both schooling and tertiary education It will have a wider resonance among practitioners in the STEM disciplines particularly at university level and for those interested in contemporary public policy

Polling Student Voices for School Improvement Paris S. Strom, Robert D. Strom, 2023-11-01 The purpose of this book is to help secondary school principals and college faculty fulfill their key role for continuous improvement planning of educational practices and safety at their institution Rapid social and technological advances have motivated the consideration of student voice in schools across the United States By merging student voice and educator expertise an intergenerational perspective can emerge that more accurately portrays the strengths and limitations of a school Strom and Strom began their research on student voice by partnering with adolescents and principals from several schools to identify topics they saw as appropriate for polling to improve schools This effort led to the development of ten polls on school stress career exploration time management attention and distraction tutoring peer support school cheating frustration cyberbullying and Internet learning Every poll contains 15 to 20 multiple choice items The process model for polling includes a step by step procedure that educational leaders can use to plan and implement school improvement Different methods of data analysis and ways to report overall evidence based school results are presented by age gender grade and ethnicity Student polling is distinctive from other assessment strategies because the target for data gathering is a single school without comparison to other schools This narrow base to assess student voice ensures poll results are anonymous and have local relevance to guide stakeholder responses The results of polling can provide data based evidence that can be used for continuous education improvement planning An additional benefit is to separately assess students in special education gifted and talented programs and second language acquisition learners Our web site at learningpolls.org is intended to further inform educational leaders and invite their collaboration
