Rural Employment Trends In Recession And Recovery:

Rural Employment Trends in Recession and Recovery Tom Hertz, Lorin Kusmin, Alex Marre, Tim Parker, 2014-09-24
In December 2007 6 years of economic growth ended as the U S economy entered the most severe recession since the Great Depression Eighty two percent of U S counties experienced job losses as a result of the recession but some places were hit much harder than others and some have recovered more rapidly This report describes the nature and causes of this geographic variation which include differences in the mix of industries that support the local economy in population growth trends and in the demographics of the local workforce How did these factors lead to differences in employment outcomes between urban metropolitan and rural nonmetropolitan areas and among nonmetro counties What explains geographic differences in the severity of unemployment during the recession and the pace of job growth since the end of the recession

Rural Employment Trends in Recession and Recovery Tom Hertz, 2014      Rural Employment Trends in Recession and Recovery United States Department of Agriculture, 2014-12-06 This report examines the effects of the recent major recession and gradual recovery on county employment and unemployment rates with an emphasis on rural America The recession was marked by a 6 percent contraction in nonfarm employment and a doubling of the national unemployment rate between 2007 and 2009 Geographic variation in both the employment effects of the recession and the pace of job growth during the recovery has been striking with large differences between regions between metro and nonmetro counties and between more and less rural nonmetro counties We document these geographic differences and analyze their causes demonstrating the relative importance of factors such as the county s industrial composition the age structure of the county s population and the educational status of its workforce      Rural Employment Trends in Recession and Recovery United States Department of Agriculture, 2015-07-12 This report examines the effects of the recent major recession and gradual recovery on county employment and unemployment rates with an emphasis on rural America The recession was marked by a 6 percent contraction in non farm employment and a doubling of the national unemployment rate between 2007 and 2009 Geographic variation in both the employment effects of the recession and the pace of job growth during the recovery has been striking with large differences between regions between metro and non metro counties and between more and less rural non metro counties We document these geographic differences and analyze their causes demonstrating the relative importance of factors such as the county s industrial composition the age structure of the county s population and the educational status of its workforce      Rural Employment Trends in Recession and Recovery Tom Hertz, 2014      Rural Conditions and Trends , 1996      Symposium on Rural Labor Markets Research Issues , 1986

Rural Policies And Employment: Transatlantic Experiences Sophia M Davidova, Kenneth J Thomson, Ashok K Mishra, 2019-06-13 A unique title comparing rural policies and employment in the two most developed parts of the world the EU and USA While both regions are concerned for their vast rural areas each adopts a strikingly different approach to create and maintain employment there making rural space attractive to businesses and residents This book focuses on a major issue of socioeconomic and policy concern i e whether jobs and incomes can be protected or created in rural areas where often agriculture no longer provides a large and secure basis for employment Within a paired chapter structure covering both the European Union and the United States of America it deals with several themes of interest including farm policies labor entry and exit and rural and household enterprise diversification Specific special studies also analyze recent developments within countries or regions
