When his friend LeRoy tells him about the Klan and their hanging tree, James William has a hard time grasping this harsh reality until an unexpected encounter brings the issue close to home.

A Parent/Teacher Guide to Children's Books on Peace and Tolerance Bob Blumenthal, 2005 How do you teach children to value peace and appreciate diversity? One way is to provide them with books with themes that promote these ideas. The Parent Teacher Guide to Children's Books on Peace and Tolerance offers readers a wide variety of award-winning titles along with annotations and grade-level recommendations. The book is divided into the following sections: Preschool, grade three, Grades 4-6, Middle school, and High school. Each section has over 100 listings. Topics include civil rights, the Holocaust, slavery, Native Americans, bullying, war, child abuse, bigotry, cooperation, acceptance, apartheid, family relationships, Arab-Israeli conflict, controlling anger, the Civil War, the Vietnam War, WWII, gays and lesbians, and other social issues. Many of these books are the recipients of the following awards and honors: Newbery Award, School Library Journal starred review, Caldecott Award, Boston Globe Horn Book Award, American Library Association Notable Book, Jane Addams Children's Book Award, American Bookseller Pick of the List, Kirkus Reviews starred review, Publishers Weekly starred review, Booklist starred review, Coretta Scott King Award, VOYA Top Picks, National Book Award, and the Michael L. Printz Award. This guide is an excellent resource for parents who would like their children to become peace-loving, accepting adults. Teachers who are looking for books to supplement their curriculum will find the suggested titles to be among the best-written works in the designated areas. For example, one would be hard-pressed to find a better-written book on the Holocaust for middle and high school students than I Have Lived One Thousand Years. The author has done a great service by providing parents and teachers with a list of books that cannot be found anywhere else. A

Genocide in Contemporary Children's and Young Adult Literature Jane Gangi, 2014-03-14 This book studies children's and young adult literature of genocide since 1945, considering issues of representation and using postcolonial theory to provide both literary analysis and implications for educating the young. Many of the authors visited, accurately and authentically portray the genocide about which they write; others perpetuate stereotypes or otherwise distort, demean, or oversimplify. In this focus on young people's literature of specific genocides, Gangi profiles and critiques works on the Cambodian genocide (1975-1979), the Iraqi Kurds (1988), the Maya of Guatemala (1981-1983), Bosnia, Kosovo, and Srebrenica (1990s), Rwanda (1994), and Darfur (2003-present). In addition to critical analysis, each chapter also provides historical background based on the work of prominent genocide scholars. To conduct research for the book, Gangi traveled to Bosnia, engaged in conversation with young people from Rwanda, and spoke with scholars who had traveled to or lived in Guatemala and Cambodia. This book analyses the ways contemporary children, typically ages ten and up, are engaged in the study of genocide and addresses the ways in which child survivors who have witnessed genocide are helped by literature that mirrors their experiences.
