standards help in reducing medication errors and in providing safe patient care Standardizing Medication Labels
Institute of Medicine, Board on Population Health and Public Health Practice, Roundtable on Health Literacy, 2008-05-15
Medications are an important component of health care but each year their misuse results in over a million adverse drug events that lead to office and emergency room visits as well as hospitalizations and in some cases death. As a patient's most tangible source of information about what drug has been prescribed and how that drug is to be taken, the label on a container of prescription medication is a crucial line of defense against such medication safety problems. Yet almost half of all patients misunderstand label instructions about how to take their medicines. Standardizing Medication Labels: Confusing Patients Less is the summary of a workshop held in Washington, D.C. on October 12, 2007 that was organized to examine what is known about how medication container labeling affects patient safety and to discuss approaches to addressing identified problems.
