Violence and Dystopia Daniel Cojocaru,2015-09-18 Violence and Dystopia is a critical examination of imitative desire scapegoating and sacrifice in selected contemporary Western dystopian narratives through the lens of Ren Girard s mimetic theory The first chapter offers an overview of the history of Western utopia dystopia with a special emphasis on the problem of conflictive mimesis and scapegoating violence and a critical introduction to Girard s theory The second chapter is devoted to J G Ballard s seminal novel Crash 1973 Chuck Palahniuk s Fight Club 1996 and Rant 2007 and Brad Anderson s film The Machinist 2004 It is argued that the car crash functions as a metaphor for conflictive mimetic desire and leads to a quasi sacrificial crisis as defined by Girard for archaic religion The third chapter focuses on the psychogeographical writings of Iain Sinclair and Peter Ackroyd Walking the streets of London the pedestrian represents the excluded underside of the world of Ballardian speed The walking subject is portrayed in terms of the expelled victim of Girardian theory The fourth chapter considers violent crowds as portrayed by Ballard s late fiction the writings of Stewart Home and David Peace s GB84 2004 In accordance with Girard s hypothesis the discussed narratives reveal the failure of scapegoat expulsion to restore peace to the potentially self destructive violent crowds The fifth chapter examines the post apocalyptic environments resulting from failed scapegoat expulsion and mimetic conflict out of control as portrayed in Sinclair s Radon Daughters 1994 Margaret Atwood s The Handmaid s Tale 1985 and Oryx and Crake 2003 and Will Self s The Book of Dave 2006

Revisiting the Yorkshire Ripper Murders Louise Wattis,2018-12-28 Between 1975 and 1980 Peter Sutcliffe who became known as the Yorkshire Ripper murdered 13 women in the North of England The murders provoked widespread fear amongst women and impacted the public consciousness at both the local and national level This book revisits the case applying a feminist and cultural criminological lens to explore a range of criminological concerns relating to gender violence and victimhood Combining research findings from oral history interviews analysis of popular criminological texts and academic commentary this volume explores what the case can tell us about feminism fear of crime gender and serial murder and the representation of victims and sex workers The volume contributes to a creative cultural criminology highlighting how excavating recent criminal history and reading across texts presents new ways for understanding violence gender and representation in the contemporary context Sport, Media and Regional Identity Simon Roberts, 2015-11-25 The increasing potency of identity politics across Europe often sees sport acting as a vehicle for the promotion and celebration of regional and sub national identities However while the relationship between sport the media and national identity has featured in numerous academic and political debates in recent years the links between sports media and regional identity have received little attention This seems a curious oversight because the links between sport and region frequently become a celebration of the local and the distinctive emblematic of community and continuity This volume will explore that sense of the counter hegemonic where sport is celebrated by a media often keen to promote notions of difference which might verge on rebellion in some contexts conceived as resisting global homogeneity or national hegemony At other times they may merely reflect a commercial nose for the local audience s tastes but there is always the sense of preserving something important a celebration of the diversity that makes us human This book considers the centrality and cultural significance of particular sports or clubs to regional and sub national identities across Europe and beyond adopting a comparative approach to the mediatized nature of such portrayals
