

WHERE DREAMS
LEAVE OFF
REALITY BEGINS!!!

RED NIGHTS

Clean-cut, small-town college grad Randy Douglas (CHRISTOPHER PARKER) arrives in Hollywood with dreams of being a big star. By day he works in Philip's (JACK CARTER) souvenir shop, and by night he does what he needs to do to succeed as an actor. When his old friend David (BRIAN MATTHEWS) introduces him to life on the fast-track—wild parties, loose women, sleazy agents—Randy realizes that nothing in his small-town experience has prepared him to deal with these new situations. In fact, he's in for the adventure of his young life as he finds out that it takes a whole lot more than just knowing how to act to make it as a star in this notoriously tough city.

Mavericks William MacLeod Raine,1912 English-Tibetan Dictionary of Modern Tibetan Melvyn C. Goldstein,2023-07-28 The liberalization of political and intellectual life in China and the rise of Tibetan exile communities throughout the world have produced a resurgence of spoken and written Tibetan These developments together with increasing contacts between Western scholars and Tibetans have created a widening circle of English speakers in government business academia and elsewhere who need to speak or write Tibetan with precision and clarity For these people and for others who want to communicate with Tibetans in their own language Professor Goldstein s Dictionary will be an indispensable aid The first scholarly English Tibetan dictionary as well as the only one that is semantically sensitive this work specifies the Tibetan terms that correspond to the submeanings of a single English term Containing roughly 16 000 main entries most of which have multiple subentries the Dictionary treats a total of 45 000 lexical items Each entry includes both the written Tibetan orthography and a phonemic notation to indicate pronunciation Grammatical features are also noted and all examples of usage are presented with the romanization of the written Tibetan and phonemic notation of the spoken forms An introductory essay familiarizes users with the main features of Tibetan grammar The liberalization of political and intellectual life in China and the rise of Tibetan exile communities throughout the world have produced a resurgence of spoken and written Tibetan These developments together with increasing contacts between Western s

Red on Red Craig S. Womack, 1999 How can a square peg fit into a round hole It can't How can a door be unlocked with a pencil It can't How can Native literature be read applying conventional postmodern literary criticism It can't That is Craig Womack's argument in Red on Red Indian communities have their own intellectual and cultural traditions that are well equipped to analyze Native literary production These traditions should be the eyes through which the texts are viewed To analyze a Native text with the methods currently dominant in the academy according to the author is like studying the stars with a magnifying glass In an unconventional and piercingly humorous appeal Womack creates a dialogue between essays on Native literature and fictional letters from Creek characters who comment on the essays Through this conceit Womack demonstrates an alternative approach to American Indian literature with the letters serving as a Creek chorus that offers answers to the questions raised in his more traditional essays Topics range from a comparison of contemporary oral versions of Creek stories and the translations of those stories dating back to the early twentieth century to a queer reading of Cherokee author Lynn Riggs's play The Cherokee Night Womack argues that the meaning of works by native peoples inevitably changes through evaluation by the dominant culture Red on Red is a call for self-determination on the part of Native writers and a demonstration of an important new approach to studying Native works one that engages not only the literature but also the community from which the work grew
