Recasting Red Culture in Proletarian Japan Samuel Perry,2014-01-31 Recasting Red Culture turns a critical eye on the influential proletarian cultural movement that flourished in 1920s and 1930s Japan This was a diverse cosmopolitan and highly contested moment in Japanese history when notions of political egalitarianism were being translated into cultural practices specific to the Japanese experience Both a political and historiographical intervention the book offers a fascinating account of the passions and antinomies that animated one of the most admirable intellectual and cultural movements of Japan's twentieth century and argues that proletarian literature cultural workers and institutions fundamentally enrich our understanding of Japanese culture What sustained the proletarian movement's faith in the idea that art and literature were indispensable to the task of revolution How did the movement manage to enlist artists teachers and scientists into its ranks and what sorts of contradictions arose in the merging of working class and bourgeois cultures Recasting Red Culture asks these and other questions as it historicizes proletarian Japan at the intersection of bourgeois aesthetics radical politics and a flourishing modern print culture Drawing parallels with the experiences of European revolutionaries the book vividly details how cultural activists recast forms of modern culture into practices commensurate with the goals of revolution Weaving over a dozen translated fairytales poems and short stories into his narrative Samuel Perry offers a fundamentally new approach to studying revolutionary culture By examining the margins of the proletarian cultural movement Perry effectively redefines its center as he closely reads and historicizes proletarian children's culture avant garde wall fiction and a literature that bears witness to Japan's fraught relationship with its Korean colony Along the way he shows how proletarian culture opened up new critical spaces in the intersections of class popular culture childhood gender and ethnicity Mouse Kaylena Radcliff, 2019-05-01 The Elmnas Chronicles Book One MOUSE Mouse is an ordinary girl with a burning secret she doesn't know who she is or where she comes from All she has to cling to is the searing pain of the number 146 branded on her arm with a white hot iron Working as a slave in Misty Summit's Manufacturing Facility she is alone until a fateful discovery leads her to embark on a quest to Elmnas a fabled land far away With the help of a kind hearted farm boy and an ancient warrior Mouse begins her daring journey But the ruling powers are determined to stop her and a relentless bounty huntress is on her trail With danger lurking at every turn Mouse must fight for her freedom and find a way to the mysterious country Will she make it to Elmnas or will her pursuers catch up with her Mouse's journey is filled with danger mystery and courage Her bravery and determination will take her to places she never thought possible Join Mouse and her newfound friends as they battle against the odds to reach Elmnas in this thrilling adventure of self discovery The Red Squirrel Robert Torrens Hatt, 1929 Mouse and His Dog: A Dogtown Book Katherine Applegate, Gennifer Choldenko, 2024-09-17 An Instant NEW YORK TIMES and Indie Bestseller The not to be missed companion to Dogtown full of friendship and adventure Mouse lives in Dogtown a shelter for real dogs and robot dogs where the kibble is plentiful and the rafters hide a secret community of mice His unlikely best friend is Buster a big hearted real dog who attracts trouble like a burr to fur Determined to help Buster find his forever home even if means losing his best pal Mouse embarks on a bold quest with three of Dogtown's unadoptables Buster Stewie a huge lovable dog whose ex owner said he was mean and Smokey a robot dog hardwired with a smoke alarm he can't control But Mouse is just a mouse and the world is big and complicated How's a little guy supposed to find homes for the dogs he loves

The Singing Mouse Stories Emerson Hough,2020-09-28 Back again now by some impulse of the dog which hasn't had any day It is winter now I remember Singing Mouse and I am walking by the shore of the great Inland Seas There is snow on the ground The trees look black in contrast as you gaze up from the beach against the high bank It is cold It is dark There is a shiver in the air There are icicles in the sky Something is flying through the trees but silent as if it came out of a grave I have been walking I know I have walked a million miles and I'm tired My legs are stiff and my legging has frozen fast to my overshoe I remember that And so I sit down right here you know and look out over the lake just over there you see The ice reaches out from the shore into the lake a long way and it is covered with snow and looks white I can follow that white glimmer in a long long curve to the right twenty miles or more maybe Yes it is cold But ah what is that out there and what is it doing It is setting all the long white curves of ice afire It is throwing down hammered silver in a broad path out there on the water Those are not ripples That is silver There will be angels walking on that pathway before long That is not the moon coming up over the lake It is the swinging open by some careless angel's mischance of the door of the White City of Rest How old how sore a man climbed up the steep bank There were white fields In the distance a dog barked Away across the fields a bright and cheery light shone out from a window and as the moon rose higher it showed the house which held the light It was not a large house but it seemed to be a home Home what is that I wondered and I remember that I pulled at the frozen legging and moved with pain the limbs grown tired and sore
