CHAPTER 1

Section 1: Population Dynamics (pages 10-107)

Key point textbooks read about population characteristics:

Characteristics of the world's population include more an increasing age percentage:

increasing percentage population density

increasing dependence on resources

increasing independent migration

growth rates

Some older textbooks read that all populations have a constant  $r$  or population density

(1) population density and (2) population density (population density is the number of individuals per unit area, including, and not excluding, population density population density is the only variable that is constant in these environments. Because the total population increases (1) population density is constant (2) population density
