The following multiple-choice questions are samples of the types included in the test. Responses to the answers are included with a rationale as to why the answer is correct.

Biology/Life Science Core Course Content—p.27: Explain how the chemical and structural properties of DNA allow for genetic information to be encoded in genes and replicated.

1. Scientists use a certain technique to measure RNA levels in various cell types. Which of the following is most directly observed by this technique?
- A. mutation
 - B. biomagnification
 - C. gene expression
 - D. osmotic regulation

Rationale: The correct answer is C.

The majority of genes are expressed as the proteins they encode. This process occurs in two steps (transcription and translation), both involving types of RNA.

Biology/Life Science Core Course Content—p. 38: Demonstrate through modeling (Punnett square) how the sorting and recombination of genes during sexual reproduction has an effect on variation in offspring.

2. A certain trait is caused by a recessively inherited gene that is not sex-linked. A man and a woman, neither of whom exhibit the trait, have a child with the trait. What is the probability their second child will have the trait?
- A. 0%
 - B. 25%
 - C. 50%
 - D. 100%

Rationale: The correct answer is B.

An individual can inherit two different alleles for the same gene—one dominant and one recessive. An individual with a recessive allele for a particular trait will exhibit that form of the trait only when the dominant allele for the trait is not present. A Punnett square can be used to predict the probability of inheriting a particular trait.
