

A Love Letter For Sister Who Hates Me

Dear "Name of your Love"

I hope this letter finds you in the best of health, and I hope this letter also finds acceptance from you. You are a lovely piece of my heart, which I cannot do without. I always feel your absence. I never knew that one incident would be so strong between us to question our bond at once; neither do I wanted that to happen any day.

I don't even want to pen those reasons, which pushed us to this point today. I want you to know and know it totally that your brother loves you wholeheartedly.

You are a very precious gem in my life. I still cherish those moments when we used to play together, get things broken. The next moment mom would make an excellent class of us, but we both would gulp it because we shared it. These little moments always cheers my mind all way up. But the fact that we are so distant apart with our bond is not acceptable to me so quickly. I know you are upset with me, but I even know my sister cannot hate me back. Let us not drag this longer, come back to me.

No one can take your place in my life and my heart. I want you back to complete the broken pieces in my life. On my part, I apologize to you for anything that remains. Come back; I love you.

Regards

N. Ramu, 2006-01-01 Indian society is rapidly becoming more urban and while the level of urbanization and the values associated with it have yet to correspond with those of Western societies the traditional ethos governing sibling relations is becoming increasingly less relevant G N Ramu explores this phenomenon in Brothers and Sisters in India the first detailed study of adult siblings in contemporary Indian society Based on sixteen months of field work in the city of Mysore and over three decades of research in this area Ramu s study focuses on the three types of sibling relationships fraternal sororal and cross sibling and examines the frequency of interaction the level of mutual assistance and the incidence of conflict and strain between brothers and sisters Gender and Politics in the Age of Letter-Writing, 1750-2000 Máire Cross, 2017-05-15 Letters have long been an outlet for political expression whether they articulate the personal politics of the daily routine or the political views of individuals who witness or participate in dramatic events In addition letters can be unusually revealing records of the relations between men and women Though letters have frequently been studied as a privileged space for literary social and cultural expression the three dimensional relationship of politics gender and letters has not been the focus of an entire volume The nineteen essays in this collection examine how the gendered nature of political literacy is revealed over a 250 year period through letter writing whether the writer is famous or unknown the wife of a prominent politician or activist a political prisoner or political militant Ranging wide in terms of subject matter and geography the contributors examine correspondence that ponders familial concerns as well as letters providing political commentary on the effects of war or revolution on everyday life Among the impressive group of international scholars are Jim Allen Clare Brant Edith Gelles Jane Rendall and Si n Reynolds Essex Pauper Letters, 1731-1837 Thomas Sokoll, 2006-03-09 The immensely rich archives from the administration of the English poor law before 1834 include letters to the overseers of the poor that came from the poor themselves As personal testimonies of people claiming relief which are often written in a stunningly private tone pauper letters allow deep insights into the living conditions experiences and attitudes of the labouring poor in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries This edition contains some 750 of these letters all those presently known to survive in the county of Essex The Introduction demonstrates the immense importance of this neglected source both for the social historian emanating from the individual And yet as the coronavirus pandemic has made clear humans are unavoidably interconnected not only with other humans but with nonhuman and more than human others with whom we share space and time Why do so many of us humans avoid deny or resist a view of the world where our lives are made possible maybe even made richer through connection In this volume we suggest a view of communication as intimacy We use this concept as a provocation for thinking about how we humans are in an always already state of being in relation with other humans nonhumans and the land
