Writing Effective Course Assignments Elia Shabani Mligo,2017-05-11 Non degree and undergraduate students are both inexperienced essay writers who need close guidance to become effective writers One of the puzzles which they encounter at the college and university after reporting for studies is the course assignments offered to them by their lecturers which demand them to be critical thinkers and argumentative essay writers In most colleges and universities lecturers provide to students broad questions to answer in the form of essays either in group or individual assignments How should they turn the broad assignment questions provided to them by their lecturers into specific researchable topics for essays How should they handle literature in order to obtain valuable information to answer the provided question How should they construct an informed and convincing argument using the collected information as evidence This book concerns these and other related questions With its clear illustrations the book is designed to be a self study guide and to offer solutions to many struggling students in colleges and universities At the same time the book can be helpful for lecturers to instruct their students how to write effective course assignments in their respective courses Journal of Developmental Education ,2015

Introduction to Documentary, Fourth Edition Bill Nichols, Jaimie Baron, 2024-08-06 The fourth edition of Bill Nichols's best selling text Introduction to Documentary has been vastly altered in its entirety to bring this indispensable textbook up to date and reconceptualize aspects of its treatment of documentaries past and present. Here Nichols with Jaimie Baron has edited each chapter for clarity and ease of use and expanded the book with updates and new ideas. Featuring abundant examples and images Introduction to Documentary Fourth Edition is designed to facilitate a rich understanding of how cinema can be used to document the historical world as it is seen by a wide variety of filmmakers. Subjectivity, expressivity, persuasiveness, and credibility are crucial factors that move documentary film away from objective documentation and toward the thought provoking realm of arguments, perceptions, and perspectives that draw from a filmmaker's unique sensibility to help us see the world as we have not seen it before. Exploring ethics, history, different modes of documentary, key social issues addressed, and both the origins and evolution of this form, this updated volume also offers guidance on how to write about documentaries and how to begin the process of making one. Introduction to Documentary Fourth Edition will be of use not only to film students but also those in adjacent fields where visual representations of reality play an important role: journalism, sociology, anthropology, feminist and ethnic studies, among others.

Real Likenesses Michael Morris, 2020 Real Likenesses presents a radical new approach to the philosophy of artistic representation. Through a close analysis of paintings, photographs, and novels, it reconsiders the relationship between medium and content and proposes a new understanding of the real likenesses that we encounter in representational art.

The Real South Scott Romine, 2008-06-01 In this stimulating study Scott Romine explores the impact of globalization on contemporary southern culture and the South's persistence in an age of media and what he terms cultural reproduction Rather than being compromised Romine asserts southern cultures are both complicated and reconfigured as they increasingly detach from tradition in its conventional sense In considering Souths that might appear fake the Souths of the theme restaurant commercial television and popular regional magazines for example Romine contends that authenticity and reality emerge as central concepts that allow groups and individuals to imagine and navigate social worlds Romine addresses a major critical problem authenticity in a fundamentally new manner Less concerned with what actually constitutes an authentic or real South than in how these concepts are used today The Real South explores a wide range of southern narratives that describe and travel through virtual simulated and commodified Souths Where earlier critics have tended to assume a real or authentic South Romine questions such assumptions and whether the authentic South ever truly existed From Gone with the Wind Civil War reenactments and a tennis community outside Atlanta called Tara to the work of Josephine Humphreys the travel narrative of V S Naipaul and the historical fiction of Lewis Nordan Romine examines how narratives and spaces are used to fashion social solidarity and cultural continuity in a time of fragmentation and change Far from deteriorating or disappearing in a global economy Romine shows the South continues to be reproduced and used by diverse groups engaged in diverse cultural projects

Reading Pakeha? Christina Stachurski, 2009 Aotearoa New Zealand a tiny Pacific country is of great interest to those engaged in postcolonial and literary studies throughout the world In all former colonies myths of national identity are vested with various interests Shifts in collective Pakeha or New Zealand European identity have been marked by the phenomenal popularity of three novels each at a time of massive social change Late colonialism anti imperialism and the collapse of the idea of a singular nation can be traced through the reception of John Mulgan's Man Alone 1939 Keri Hulme's the bone people 1983 and Alan Duff's Once Were Warriors 1990 Yet close analysis of these three novels also reveals marginalization and silencing in claims to singular Pakeha identity and a linear development of settler acculturation Such a dynamic resonates with that of other settler cultures the similarities and differences telling in comparison Specifically Reading Pakeha Fiction and Identity in Aotearoa New Zealand explores how concepts of race and ethnicity intersect with those of gender sex and sexuality This book also asks whether Pakeha is still a meaningful term Defying Convention, Inventing the Future in Literary Research and Practice Patricia L. Anders, 2011-11-17 In this volume major literacy scholars from around the world pay tribute to Ken and Yetta Goodman renowned and revered worldwide for their pioneering influential work in the field of reading literacy education and offer glimpses of what the future of literacy research and practice might be Classical Political Economy William O. Thweatt, 2013-03-09 William O Thweatt This book is the second in three surveys of the literature in the history of economic thought in the Kluwer Recent Economic Thought series The first book covering the pre classical literature has already been published a third on the neo classical period is planned for 1988 This middle book surveys the writings on classical political economy for the past 30 years or roughly since the publication of Joseph Schumpeter's 1954 monumental History of Economic Analysis Shortly after World War II the American Economic Association sponsored a Survey of Contemporary Economics 1949 That work covered 13 subdisciplines of economics and in 1952 a companion piece appeared in which surveys of 10 additional subdisciplines were presented As Bernard Haley editor of the second volume stated even though in the two volumes twenty three fields have been treated there remain some aspects of the subject that have not been reviewed Haley 1952 p v Reading at the Limits of Poetic Form Jacob McGuinn, 2024-05-15 Pushing the boundaries of critical reading and the role of objects in literature How does literary objecthood contend with the challenge of writing objects that emerge at an extreme limit of material presence Jacob McGuinn delves into the ways literature writes this indeterminate presence in the context of pre and post 68 Paris a vital moment in the history of criticism The works of poet Paul Celan philosopher Theodor Adorno and writer Maurice Blanchot highlight how the complexities of reading such a dematerialized object are part of the indeterminacy of material itself Indeterminate objects glass snow walls screens are subjects Celan describes as existing in meridian space while for Adorno and Blanchot criticism not only responds to this indeterminacy but also takes it as its condition Reading at the Limits of Poetic Form Dematerialization in Adorno Blanchot and Celan shows how these readings simultaneously limit the object of criticism and outline alternative ways of thinking that lie between the models of critical formalism and historicism ultimately revealing the possible materiality of literature in unrealized history incomplete politics and nondetermining thinking Converts to the Real Edward Baring, 2019-05-01 In the most wide ranging history of phenomenology since Herbert Spiegelberg's The Phenomenological Movement over fifty years ago Baring uncovers a new and unexpected force Catholic intellectuals behind the growth of phenomenology in the early twentieth century and makes the case for the movement's catalytic intellectual and social impact Of all modern schools of thought phenomenology has the strongest claim to the mantle of continental philosophy In the first half of the twentieth century phenomenology expanded from a few German towns into a movement spanning Europe Edward Baring shows that credit for this prodigious growth goes to a surprising group of early enthusiasts Catholic intellectuals Placing phenomenology in historical context Baring reveals the enduring influence of Catholicism in twentieth century intellectual thought Converts to the Real argues that Catholic scholars allied with phenomenology because they thought it mapped a path out of modern idealism which they associated with Protestantism and secularization and back to Catholic metaphysics Seeing in this unfulfilled promise a bridge to Europe s secular academy Catholics set to work extending phenomenology s reach writing many of the first phenomenological publications in languages other than German and organizing the first international conferences on phenomenology The Church even helped rescue Edmund Husserl s papers from Nazi Germany in 1938 But phenomenology proved to be an unreliable ally and in debates over its meaning and development Catholic intellectuals contemplated the ways it might threaten the faith As a result Catholics showed that phenomenology could be useful for secular projects and encouraged its adoption by the philosophical establishment in countries across Europe and beyond Baring traces the resonances of these Catholic debates in postwar Europe From existentialism through the phenomenology of Paul Ricoeur and Maurice Merleau Ponty to the speculative realism of the present European thought bears the mark of Catholicism the original continental philosophy
