

Pediatric Case Study #1

Burns, C.E., Richardson, B. & Brady, M.A. (2010). Pediatric Primary Care Case Studies. Sudbury, Massachusetts: Jones and Bartlett.

Maya Conteh is a 9 month old who comes to the clinic for an evaluation. She is accompanied by her mother who speaks Arabic and English. The mother expresses concern with Maya's development. The family emigrated from the Sudan 1 year ago and now lives in low income student housing because the father is in graduate school. This is their first child. The maternal grandparents are also temporarily living in the house and help with Maya.

Birth History: Maya was born 11 weeks early, weighing 2 lbs 8 oz. When Maya was just a few days old, she stopped breathing and was placed on a ventilator. After 24 hours she was able to breathe on her own. According to the mother, many tests were run on Maya, but the doctors could find nothing wrong. Maya spent 2 months in the hospital without incident and was discharged to home.

Mother reports: she noticed that Maya drooled a lot and choked easily with her bottle. Now she reports that Maya cannot hold her head up straight, roll or sit without support. She cries a lot and becomes stiff with rage. Mother reports no hospitalizations, surgeries or injuries since discharge.

Is Maya developing "normally?"

- No. Maya cannot hold her head up straight, roll or sit without support.

What developmental milestones would you expect a 9-month-old infant to have achieved?

- Lift head by 2 mo.
- Roll over by 4 mo.
- Roll prone to supine by 4 mo.
- Roll supine to prone by 6 mo.
- Sit independently by 8 mo.
- Crawling by 8 mo.

Newby, Laura Weiss Roberts, 2008-12-23 In the recent literature the most influential case study books in neuropsychology are in the adult realm Pediatric neuropsychology is a rapidly developing field with increasingly greater influence in the assessment diagnosis early identification and treatment of childhood illnesses This book will provide the first centralized comprehensive resource for case studies in pediatric neuropsychology Not only will this supply a valuable compilation for the growing numbers of professionals in this field but will also serve as an innovative and appealing resource for therapists teachers and others interested in child development This book will be structured in such a way that readers can easily access individual cases of interest as well as related areas of dysfunction Section breakdowns will be provided in order to highlight the combined focus of case presentations in acquired neuropsychological dysfunction as well as developmental disorders Each section will begin with an introductory chapter highlighting the salient feature of the concept and providing brief up to date reviews of the current research and theories Within each global section individual case studies will serve as stand alone chapters Contributing authors will be provided extensive guidance and coaching with regards to the standard format and information to be included in each chapter The first section of this book will present cases involving neurological disorders The intention of this section is to provide not only classic examples of neurological dysfunction in children but also to provide interesting cases of unique or remarkable presentations The second section will present an accumulation of cases representing both common and progressive conceptualizations of developmental disabilities Section three has been designed to highlight cases which often present complex issues to neuropsychologists The case examples in this section will highlight the use of alternative treatments pathologies that are often a source of inquiry and situations that lack the more rigorous scientific data often utilized in other diagnostic procedures Additionally this section may include chapters on common differential diagnosis dilemmas in clinical practice Often multifaceted and even contradictory evidence can arise during evaluations resulting in complex or problematic situations for the clinician Such examples are difficult by their nature to forecast but rather would be added during the book's development as they occur Pediatric Case Studies for the Paramedic Stephen J. Rahm, 2006 Children are not simply adults. They commonly present with unique problems that are typically not encountered in older patients. These unique problems require the paramedic to alter to some degree his or her approach to the sick or injured child. Because a relatively small percentage of EMS calls involve a critically ill or injured child, it is common for the paramedic to experience anxiety when such a call is received. Pediatric Case Studies for the Paramedic contains 20 case studies representing a variety of pediatric emergencies that paramedics may encounter in the field Implementing Pediatric Integrative Medicine in Practice Hilary McClafferty, 2020-01-24 This Special Issue provides an overview of pediatric integrative medicine, an emerging field that blends conventional and evidence-based complementary therapies with an emphasis on preventive health and wellbeing. It is one of the first publications to capture the field's background as well as the implementation of pediatric integrative programs and therapies in both the United States and Europe. Written by expert contributors in their specialties, this work provides the reader a first-hand look at the innovative programs serving children with a wide array of conditions in both academic and community-based centers. Covering topics including program development and start-up, pediatric pain, headache, obesity management, stress, clinical hypnosis, creative arts, therapies, integrative nursing, and provider self-care, the edition provides rich insight into the challenges and successes experienced by the authors and the creativity and passion driving the field with the goal of improving health care for children of all ages.

Guided Participation in Pediatric Nursing Practice Karen Pridham, Rana Limbo, Michele Schroeder, 2018-05-28 The first book about Guided Participation written for nurses. This authoritative publication delivers an in-depth examination of Guided Participation (GP), a dynamic process of teaching and learning that parents and guardians have used for generations to help their charges become self-reliant. GP is helping another person become competent by providing expertise working alongside the learner. For the nurse specifically, this means educating and working alongside parents and children within an environment that supports health. Consistent with client and family-centered practice, this fresh approach to nurse-client teaching is drawn from a broad span of disciplines including education, social and cultural anthropology, relationship-based attachment, caregiving theory, and developmental science. Written for students and practitioners who wish to incorporate GP into their practice and for managers, administrators, and policy makers who support its implementation, this resource demonstrates the value of GP as a new and emerging health care model that integrates care across health care settings. The text describes step-by-step how to practice GP, discusses support systems to maintain GP past the initial treatment. With abundant case studies, examples, and research findings, chapters analyze how GP can promote health, prevent acute and chronic illness, and adjust old patterns of living and behaviors. Key Features: Includes video clips that illustrate how guided participation is applied in a variety of clinical practice settings. Provides access to self-directed online instruction. Links to online journal case studies, additional chapters, and references. Features downloadable parent checklists and teaching guides.

Discusses effective application of Guided Participation to all aspects of pediatric nursing care in a variety of practice settings Includes numerous case studies and examples with specific components identified to help readers learn theory and related concepts Learn to apply guided participation by joining the case based online course offered at University of Wisconsin Madison Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70
