- 1.1 The graphs below show the relationship between the net force and the acceleration for two masses X and Y.

Which one of the following statements is true?

- A. A freely falling object.
B. An object moving upwards with a constant velocity.
C. An object falling freely.
D. The weight of the object is equal to the force of air resistance.
- 1.2 In which of the following cases would the resultant force acting on an object be equal to 0N?
- A. A person moving at a constant speed.
B. When the net force acting on the object is constant and not equal to zero.
C. An object falling freely from a height of 100m and is only 50m above the ground.
D. An object moving with a constant acceleration.
- 1.3 Which of the statements below best describes Weightlessness?
- A. An object moving upwards with a constant velocity.
B. An object moving at a constant velocity upwards from the ground.
C. An object moving upwards with a constant velocity from the ground to a height of 100m.
D. An object moving downwards with a constant velocity from a height of 100m to the ground.
- 1.4 The inertia of an object...
- A. It is a measure of its mass.
B. It depends on the speed of the object and the mass of the object.
C. It is the resistance to any change in its state of motion.
D. It depends on the mass of the object and the speed of the object.
- 1.5 An astronaut has a weight F_g on Earth. What distance, in terms of the radius of the Earth (r), will the astronaut be if his weight is a 1/4 of his weight (F_g) on the surface of the Earth?

- A. $2r$
B. r
C. $1.5r$
D. $0.5r$

- 1.6 A box is pushed forward with a force of 100N but does not move. A possible reason for this is that:

- A. The friction force is equal to 100N.
B. The friction force is less than 100N.
C. The friction force is more than 100N.
D. None of the above.

QUESTION 2

The grade 11 learners learn that there is more than one way to determine the resultant of two vectors. One way is the component method. They want to use this method to find the resultant of the forces acting on a bucket by the ropes from which the bucket is suspended. The bucket is stationary.

- 2.1 Draw the free-body diagram.

- 2.2 The tension in rope P is 100N at an angle of 30° to the vertical and the tension in Q is 51,52N at 45° to the vertical.

Calculate the MAGNITUDE of the:

- 2.2.1 Horizontal components of P and Q respectively.
2.2.2 Vertical components of P and Q respectively.
2.2.3 Resultant of the horizontal components.
2.2.4 Resultant of the vertical components.
2.2.5 Resultant force (magnitude and direction) acting on the bucket.

strands of EU fundamental rights Central themes arising from these chapters include consideration of how the Agency manages the tension between a mandate to advise and the more traditional approach of human rights bodies to monitor and how its research impacts the delicate equilibrium between these two contesting roles FRA's experience as the first embedded human rights agency is also highlighted suggesting a role for alternative and less oppositional orientations for human rights research While authors observe the benefits of the technocratic approach to human rights research that is a hallmark of FRA's evidence based policy advice they also note its constraints FRA's policy work requires a continued awareness of political realities in Brussels Member States and civil society Consequently the complex process of determining the Agency's research agenda reflects the strategic priorities of key actors This is an important factor in the Agency's role in the EU human rights landscape This pioneering position of the Agency should invite reflection on new forms of institutionalized human rights research for the future

Active Learning: Theoretical Perspectives, Empirical Studies and Design Profiles Robert Cassidy, Elizabeth S. Charles, James D. Slotta, Nathaniel Lasry, 2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i.e. extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation
