Femme Laura Harris, Elizabeth Crocker, 1997 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an information company.

The Woman Question in France, 1400-1870 Karen Offen, 2017-10-05 A revolutionary reinterpretation of the French past focused on contesting and defending masculine hierarchy in relations between women and men.

The Englishwoman's Review of Social and Industrial Questions Janet Murray, Myra Stark, 2017-01-06 The Englishwoman's Review, which published from 1866 to 1910, participated in and recorded a great change in the range of possibilities open to women. The ideal of the magazine was the idea of the emerging emancipated middle class woman, economic independence from men, choice of occupation, participation in the male enterprises of commerce and government, access to higher education, admittance to the male professions, particularly medicine, and of course the power of suffrage equal to that of men. First published in 1984, this thirty-fifth volume contains issues from 1903. With an informative introduction by Janet Horowitz Murray and Myra Stark and an index compiled by Anna Clark, this set is an invaluable resource to those studying nineteenth and early twentieth century feminism and the women's movement in Britain.

Debating the Woman Question in the French Third Republic, 1870-1920 Karen Offen, 2018-01-11 A magisterial reconstruction and analysis of the heated debates around the woman question during the French Third Republic.

The Englishwoman's Review of Social and Industrial Questions, 1872 Annuaire Europeen 1998 / European Yearbook 1998 Hans Christian Kroger, P. Tigrid, C. Brooks, C. Church, 2000-12-01 The

The Contemporary Femme Fatale Katherine Farrimond, 2017-07-06 The femme fatale occupies a precarious yet highly visible space in contemporary cinema From sci fi alien women to teenage bad girls filmmakers continue to draw on the notion of the sexy deadly woman in ways which traverse boundaries of genre and narrative This book charts the articulations of the femme fatale in American cinema of the past twenty years and contends that despite her problematic relationship with feminism she offers a vital means for reading the connections between mainstream cinema and representations of female agency The films discussed raise questions about the limits and potential of positioning women who meet highly normative standards of beauty as powerful icons of female agency They point towards the constant shifting between patriarchal appropriation and feminist recuperation that inevitably accompanies such representations within mainstream media contexts

Butch/femme Sally Munt, Cherry Smyth, 1998-01-01 Essays on the butch femme designations respecting the power that these categories have in the lesbian community while at the same time avoiding the cliched romanticism often inherent in their representation

Gender Orders Unbound? Ilse Lenz, Charlotte Ullrich, Barbara Fersch, 2007-05-24 During the last thirty years the modernisation of gender relations has been dynamic and comprehensive shaped by the conflicting forces of globalisation as well as women s movements around the world As the patterns of segregation and discrimination of the classical industrial gender order erode new complexities and contentions in gender relations emerge at various sites such as politics work and families The main aim of the book is to trace formal as well as informal gender contracts as they emerge in everyday life and also in new norms and regulations set by states and enterprises Core issues are the chances and the barriers for equality and new forms of gender reciprocity and solidarity

Resistance, Flight, Creation Dorothea Olkowski, 2000 Thirteen women at the forefront of philosophy locate new feminist points of view within the discipline by rigorously engaging works of contemporary French philosophy In so doing they both transform the standard practices of the field and carve out new territory These writers amplify the work of feminist philosophers such as Simone de Beauvoir Luce Irigaray and Sarah Kofman in ways that are both stylistically and substantively creative They also appropriate for radical feminist use the works of male philosophers such as Michel Foucault Gilles Deleuze Maurice Merleau Ponty and Jean Paul Sartre The essays illustrate the manner in which feminist philosophers bypass traditional methodology in favor of a disciplinary freedom characterized by fluid methodologies best exemplified in Beauvoir's work and by the employment of imaginative forms including the autobiographical and the poetic The modes of inquiry used here range variously from psychoanalysis and existentialism to deconstruction post structuralism and newly resurgent phenomenology This volume also contains a comprehensive bibliography of feminist thinkers who are enacting French philosophy in English German and French

Progressive French Anecdotes and Questions Alexander G. Collot, 1873

French Feminisms Gill Allwood, 2012-09-10 In this text Gill Allwood explores theories of masculinity emerging from French feminist theories of gender and from French feminist practice concerning violence towards women highlighting both the commonalities and the specificities of the French case She discusses the particular concern of French theorists with seduction their rejection of the term gender and the centrality of the difference debate In the first part of the book Allwood separately examines feminist theories of gender and sexual difference and the problem of male violence She goes on to consider the developments which are taking place on the borderline between the two examining the way in which these developments have contributed to an understanding of masculinity Readdressing problems and debates that will be familiar to English speaking readers the text exposes cultural differences and similarities in the ways in which these problems are approached and it provides a detailed account of the changes in both feminist action and theory in France in recent years This analysis of feminism in France should be of interest to student and scholars in French studies European studies gender studies and cultural studies

The Risky Business of French Feminism Jennifer L. Sweatman, 2014-08-26 The Risky Business of French Feminism Publishing Politics and Artistry examines the institutional history of the publishing house Editions des Femmes as well as its relationship to the French Women's Liberation Movement MLF from 1972 to the present The founding and subsequent success of Editions des Femmes in the publishing milieu intensified the ideological divisions within the MLF and highlighted the extent to which that movement failed to adequately reflect on the power inherent in its recourse to print culture as an agent of change. In particular, Editions des Femmes produced several periodical publications and pioneered a woman-centered subculture that attached militant political meanings to the practice of buying and publishing books. While the MLF succeeded in changing legislation detrimental to women, it was not able to create unified cultural politics or construct a long-term media strategy that could preserve the movement's original ideals and unity. Jennifer L. Sweatman explores the long-term dissipation of the MLF as a unified force not only as an outcome of ideological disagreement but also due to conflicting views on culture, women's creativity as a strategy for empowerment, and the utility of media for creating change. As the MLF fragmented, unable to fully come to terms with its various consumer identities, its need for capital to support creative projects and its difficult experience with collective decision-making, the Editions des Femmes project was seen as incredibly controversial. However, Editions des Femmes embodied a broader strategy for cultural transformation that privileged women's creative works rather than feminism, situating it as a successful forerunner of the revitalization of the publishing industry from below as small independent houses challenged the large media conglomerate control of the industry.

The Republic of Men Geoff Read, 2014-05-12

In The Republic of Men, Geoff Read explores the intersection of gender bias and the eight most important political parties in interwar France, breaking new scholarly ground in profound ways. The first to compare gender discourse across the political spectrum in a national context and trace the origins of the fascist new man in other political traditions, Read evaluates the impact of gender discourse upon policy during a pivotal period in French history. Skillfully exploring how differing political traditions from left to right influenced and reacted to each other, Read shows that regardless of the party, predominant notions of gender manifested themselves in misogyny and double standards when it came to women's emancipation. Despite the hostility of male politicians and party members and despite women's exclusion from both parliament and the vote, Read argues that women were nonetheless crucial to politics and visibly prominent within almost every political party in interwar France. Read explains this seeming contradiction by demonstrating the existence of a conservative trend in gender politics that by the mid-1930s had enveloped even the Communist Party. Through his masterful analysis, Read closes significant gaps in the existing historiography and presents a truly revisionist assessment of early twentieth-century French politics.
