Scope Of Economics Paper For November 2014:

EU Competition Law, Data Protection and Online Platforms: Data as Essential Facility Inge Graef, 2016-10-17 All are agreed that the digital economy contributes to a dynamic evolution of markets and competition. Nonetheless, concerns are increasingly raised about the market dominance of a few key players. Because these companies hold the power to drive rivals out of business, regulators have begun to seek scope for competition enforcement in cases where companies claim that withholding data is needed to satisfy customers and cut costs. This book is the first focus on how competition law enforcement tools can be applied to refusals of dominant firms to give access to data on online platforms such as search engines, social networks, and e-commerce platforms, commonly referred to as the gatekeepers of the Internet. The question arises whether the denial of a dominant firm to grant competitors access to its data could constitute a refusal to deal and lead to competition law liability under the so-called essential facilities doctrine, according to which firms need access to shared knowledge in order to be able to compete. A possible duty to share data with rivals also brings to the forefront the interaction of competition law with data protection legislation, considering that the required information may include personal data of individuals. Building on the refusal to deal concept and using a multidisciplinary approach, the analysis covers such issues and topics as the following: data portability; interoperability; data as a competitive advantage or entry barrier in digital markets; market definition and dominance with respect to data; disruptive versus sustaining innovation; role of intellectual property regimes; economic trade-off in essential facilities cases; relationship of competition enforcement with data protection law; and data-related competition concerns in merger cases. The author draws on a wealth of relevant material, including EU and US decision-making practice, case law, and policy documents, as well as economic and empirical literature on the link between competition and innovation. The book concludes with a proposed framework for the application of the essential facilities doctrine to potential forms of abuse of dominance relating to data. In addition, it makes suggestions as to how data protection interests can be integrated into competition policy. An invaluable contribution to ongoing academic and policy discussions about how data-related competition concerns should be addressed under competition law, the analysis clearly demonstrates how existing competition tools for market definition and assessment of dominance can be applied to online platforms. It will be of immeasurable value to the many jurists, business persons, and academics concerned with this very timely subject.

Differentiating the Higher Education System of Ethiopia Adula Bekele Hunde, Ephrem Tekle Yacob, Genene Abebe Tadesse, Kiros Guesh, Mekasha Kassaye Gobaw, Nigussie Dechassa, Tesfaye Muhiye Endris, Tesfaye Negewo, Yemataw Wondie, 2023-01-04 The Government of the Federal Democratic Republic of Ethiopia commissioned a national study to review the overall education system of Ethiopia in 2016 that resulted in the Education and Training Roadmap, outlining the unwavering commitment towards transformative changes in the national education system. Among the various areas identified in the Roadmap for further intervention, an urgent policy shift was the dire need to differentiate the public universities which for ages have stagnated from disciplinary and mission redundancy and transform them to vibrant 21st century dynamic universities endowed with missions commensurate with the critical needs of the country

State Capitalism Joshua Kurlantzick, 2016 The end of the Cold War ushered in an age of American triumphalism best characterized by the Washington Consensus the idea that free markets democratic institutions limitations on government involvement in the economy and the rule of law were the foundations of prosperity and stability The last fifteen years starting with the Asian financial crisis have seen the gradual erosion of that consensus Many commentators have pointed to the emergence of a powerful new rival model state capitalism In state capitalist regimes the government typically owns firms in strategic industries Not beholden to private sector shareholders such firms are allowed to operate with razor thin margins if the state deems them strategically important China soon to be the world's largest economy is the best known state capitalist regime but it is hardly the only one In State Capitalism Joshua Kurlantzick ranges across the world China Thailand Brazil Russia South Africa Turkey and more and argues that the increase in state capitalism across the globe has on balance contributed to a decline in democracy He isolates some of the reasons for state capitalism's resurgence the fact that globalization favors economies of scale in the most critical industries and the widespread rejection of the Washington Consensus in the face of the problems that have plagued the world economy in recent years That said a number of democratic nations have embraced state capitalism and in those regimes state backed firms like Brazil's Embraer have enjoyed considerable success Kurlantzick highlights the mixed record and the evolving nature of the model yet he is more concerned about the negative effects of state capitalism When states control firms whether in democratic or authoritarian regimes the government increases its advantage over the rest of society The combination of new technologies the perceived failures of liberal economics and democracy in many developing nations the rise of modern kinds of authoritarians and the success of some of the best known state capitalists have created an era ripe for state intervention State Capitalism offers the sharpest analysis yet of what state capitalism's emergence means for democratic politics around the world

Emissions Trading Schemes under International Economic Law James Munro, 2018-08-09 The announcement by China that it will implement a national emissions trading scheme confirms the status of this instrument as the pre eminent policy choice for mitigating climate change China will join the dozens of existing and emerging schemes around the world from the EU to California South Korea to New Zealand that use carbon units otherwise known as emissions permits or carbon credits to trade in greenhouse gas emissions in a multi billion dollar global carbon market However to date there has been no consensus about this pre eminent policy instrument being regulated by international economic law through the World Trade Organization international investment agreements and free trade agreements Munro addresses this issue by evaluating whether carbon units qualify as goods services financial services and investments under international economic law and showing how international economic law applies to emissions trading scheme in diverse and unexpected ways Further by engaging in a comparative assessment of schemes around the world his book illustrates how and why all emissions trading schemes engage in various forms of violations of international economic law which would not in most instances be justified by environmental or other exceptions In doing so he demonstrates how such schemes can be designed or reformed in ways to ensure their future compliance

Air Transport and Regional Development Case Studies Anne Graham, Nicole Adler, Hans-Martin Niemeier, Ofelia Betancor, António Pais Antunes, Volodymyr Bilotkach, Enrique J. Calderón, Gianmaria Martini, 2020-12-28 This book is one of three inter connected books related to a four year European Cooperation in Science and Technology COST Action established in 2015 The Action called Air Transport and Regional Development ATARD aimed to promote a better understanding of how the air transport related problems of core regions and remote regions should be addressed in order to enhance both economic competitiveness and social cohesion in Europe This book focuses on case studies in Europe related to air transport and regional development It is divided into four geographical regions after a general chapter that compares regional air transport connectivity between remote and central areas in Europe The first region is Northern and Western Northern Europe case studies related specifically to Norway Finland the United Kingdom and Ireland the second is Central and Eastern Europe Bulgaria Bosnia and Herzegovina and Poland the third is Central Western Europe Belgium and Switzerland and finally the fourth is Southern Europe Portugal Spain and Italy There is no other single source publication that currently covers this topic area in such a comprehensive manner by considering so many countries The book aims at becoming a major reference on the topic drawing from experienced researchers in the field covering the diverse experience and knowledge of the members of the COST Action The book will appeal to academics practitioners and policymakers who have a particular interest in acquiring detailed comparative knowledge and understanding of air transport and regional development in many different European countries Together with the other two books Air Transport and Regional Development Methodologies and Air Transport and Regional Development Policies it fills a much needed gap in the literature

Consumer Involvement in Private EU Competition Law Enforcement Maria Ioannidou, 2015-09-03 Despite the growing importance of consumer welfare in EU competition law debates there remains a significant disconnect between rhetoric and reality as consumers and their interests still play only an ancillary role in this area of law Consumer Involvement in Private EU Competition Law Enforcement is the first monograph to exclusively address this highly topical and much debated subject providing a timely and wide ranging examination of the need for more active consumer participation in competition law Written by an expert in the field it sets out a comprehensive framework of policy implications and arguments for greater involvement positioning the debate in the context of a broader EU law perspective It outlines pragmatic approaches to remedial and procedural measures that would enable consumer empowerment Finally the book identifies key institutional and political obstacles to the adoption of effective measures and suggests alternative routes to enhance the role of consumers in private competition law enforcement The book s innovative approach combining normative analysis and practical solutions make it invaluable for academics policy makers and practitioners in the field

Regional Economic Outlook, April 2016, Western Hemisphere Department Mr.Hamid Faruquee,2016-04-27 The United States has seen an improvement in economic activity driven by consumption and has taken a first step toward gradual normalization of interest rates The U S recovery continues to support activity in Mexico Central America and the Caribbean but China s slowdown has reduced the demand for exports from South America At the same time the region s commodity exporters have experienced further terms of trade shocks as commodity prices continue their decline globally This report describes the policies and economic reforms needed to address the declining productive capacity in Latin America and the Caribbean Three chapters assess corporate vulnerabilities in Latin America analyze the degree of exchange rate pass through in the region and evaluate trends in public and private infrastructure investment The Pluralist Character of the European Economic Constitution Clemens Kaupa,2016-08-25 This monograph intervenes in the long standing and controversial debate on the socio economic orientation of the European Union Arguing that the European economic constitution is pluralist in the sense that it does not favour any specific socio economic paradigm it shows that European law allows the pursuit of very different regulatory projects by the European and the national legislators This pluralist character of the European economic constitution stands in an uncomfortable relationship with the policies currently pursued by the European Union which are often neoliberal in their orientation The book takes an interdisciplinary approach it analyses the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union as interpreted and developed in the case law of the Court of Justice its history and its regulatory purpose in the light of conflicting socio economic paradigms By challenging the orthodoxy the book makes a bold proposition that will likely resonate in both European economic law scholarship and European law in general With the ongoing economic crisis triggering a significant interest in economic questions among legal scholars it is particularly timely and topical World Economic Outlook, October 2014 International Monetary Fund. Research Dept.,2014-10-07 The pace of recovery has disappointed in recent years and downside risks have increased including from heightened geopolitical tensions These increased risks make it a priority to raise actual and potential growth In a number of economies an increase in public infrastructure investment can also provide support to demand and help boost potential output And in advanced economies as well as emerging and developing economies there is a general urgent need for structural reforms to strengthen growth potential or make growth more sustainable The four individual chapters examine the overall global outlook the prospects for individual countries and regions the benefits of increased public infrastructure investment in terms of raising output and the extent to which global imbalances have narrowed significantly since their peak in 2006 Economic Impacts of Intellectual Property-Conditioned Government Incentives Dan Prud'homme,Hefa Song,2016-06-21 This book provides new insights into the economic impacts strategic objectives and legal structures of an emerging branch of government incentives conditioned on meeting intellectual property related requirements Despite becoming more common in recent years such incentives ranging from patent fee subsidies and patent box tax deductions to inventor remuneration schemes are still under researched A diverse range of analytical methods including econometric analyses case studies and comparative legal analysis are used to study these incentives in countries in Europe and China Scholars policymakers and practitioners can benefit from the conceptual and practical insights as well as policy recommendations provided Engaging the neighbours Frank Frost, 2016-07-08 From modest beginnings in 1967 the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN has become the premier regional institution in Southeast Asia The 10 members are pursuing cooperation to develop the ASEAN Community and also sponsor wider dialogues that involve the major powers Australia has been interested in ASEAN since its inauguration and was the first country to establish a multilateral link with the Association in 1974 Australia and ASEAN have subsequently engaged and cooperated on many issues of mutual concern including efforts to secure an agreement to resolve the Cambodia conflict signed in 1991 the initiation of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation grouping 1989 and the ASEAN Regional Forum 1994 the conclusion of the ASEAN Australia New Zealand Free Trade Agreement signed in 2008 and the development of the East Asia Summit from 2005 This book provides the first available detailed history of the evolution of Australia's interactions with ASEAN It assesses the origins and phases of development of Australia's relations with ASEAN the role ASEAN has played in Australian foreign policy since the 1970s the ways in which the two sides have collaborated and at times disagreed in the pursuit of regional stability and security and the key factors that will influence the relationship as it moves into its fifth decade Europe's Growth Challenge Anders Åslund, Simeon Djankov, 2017 A cogent and systematic look at the ways in which enacting fiscal and governmental policy changes might reinvigorate Europe's stagnant economy Mining and Energy Law Samantha Hepburn, 2015-08-17 Mining and Energy Law is the only textbook available that encompasses a discussion of both the law and the policy of mining and resource regulation in existing and emergent areas for the Commonwealth as well as for the states and territories in Australia The book begins by examining the ownership framework underpinning natural resources within Australia and reviews the proprietary status and scope of mining tenements and the regulation of offshore petroleum extraction It goes on to explore the legal regimes that have emerged in response to more recent developments such as coal seam gas renewable energy and geo sequestration The book concludes with a discussion of the commercial and contractual arrangements commonly used by transacting parties operating in the sector Mining and Energy Law is the ideal starting point for anyone seeking to understand the regulatory regimes and policy challenges relevant to one of Australia's most important industry sectors ECIME 2015-9th European Conference on IS Management and Evaluation Dr Elias Pimenidis and Dr Mohammed Odeh, 2015-09-07 The 9th European Conference on Information Management and Evaluation ECIME is being hosted this year by the University of the West of England Bristol UK on the 21-22 September 2015 The Conference Chair is Dr Elias Pimenidis and the Programme Chair is Dr Mohammed Odeh both from the host University ECIME provides
