The Unburied Charles Palliser, 2000-11 In Victorian England Dr Courtine is invited to spend the days before Christmas with a friend from his youth Courtine finds himself drawn into a haunting world of avarice skulduggery and exceptional evil stemming from a 200 year old murder Sufferance Charles Palliser, 2024-05 From the author of the international bestseller The Quincunx When his nation is invaded and occupied by a brutal enemy a man persuades his wife that they should give temporary shelter to a young girl who is at school with their daughter He has no idea that the girl belongs to a community against whom the invader intends to commit genocide Days stretch into weeks and then months while the enemy's pitiless hatred of the girl's community puts all of the family in danger Nobody outside the family can be trusted with the dangerous secret and the threat from outside creates internal conflicts that put the family's unity at risk Nostalgic

Postmodernism Christian Gutleben, 2021-10-18 Why do so many contemporary British novels revert to the Victorian tradition in order to find a new source of inspiration What does it mean from an ideological point of view to build a modern form of art by resurrecting and recycling an art of the past From a formal point of view what are the aesthetic priorities established by these postmodernist novels Those are the main questions tackled by this study intended for anybody interested in the aesthetic and ideological evolution of very recent fiction What this analysis ultimately proposes is a reevaluation and a redefinition of postmodernism such as it is illustrated by the British novels which paradoxically both praise and mock honour and debunk imitate and subvert their Victorian models Unashamedly opportunistic and deliberately exploiting the spirit of the time this late form of postmodernism cannibalizes and reshapes not only Victorianism but all the other previous aesthetic movements including early postmodernism Refracting the Canon in Contemporary British Literature and Film, 2016-08-09 Contemporary works of art that remodel the canon not only create complex hybrid and plural products but also alter our perceptions and understanding of their source texts This is the dual process referred to in this volume as refraction that the essays collected here set out to discuss and analyse by focusing on the dialectic rapport between postmodernism and the canon What is sought in many of the essays is a redefinition of postmodernist art and a re examination of the canon in the light of contemporary epistemology Given this dual process this volume will be of value both to everyone interested in contemporary art particularly fiction drama and film and also to readers whose aim it is to promote a better appreciation of canonical British literature      Theme Parks, Rainforests and Sprouting Wastelands ,2022-05-16 This lively and fascinating new collection of European essays on contemporary Anglophone fiction has arisen out of the ESSE 3 Conference which was held in Glasgow in September 1995 The contributors live and work in University English Departments in Bulgaria Croatia France Germany Hungary Italy The Netherlands Portugal and Spain as well as in the United Kingdom itself Essays on general theoretical aspects of the subject head and conclude the collection and there are also essays on individual writers or groups of writers such as John Fowles A S Byatt Charles Palliser Peter Ackroyd William Golding Doris Lessing Daphne du Maurier Angela Carter and Christina Stead The performative aspect of the subject matter of these essays is balanced by a locational aspect including utopian and dystopian writing in authors as diverse as Michael Crichton Jenny Diski and Salman Rushdie and the travel literature of Bruce Chatwin These essays show theoretical alertness but no single theoretical position is privileged The aim of the collection is to provide an indication of the range of work being carried out throughout European academe on Anglophone mainly British writing today      Prizing Scottish Literature Stevie Marsden,2021-02-15 This cultural history of the Saltire Society Literary Awards demonstrates the significance the awards have had within Scottish literary and cultural life It is one piece of the wider cultural award puzzle and illustrates how far from being parochial or niche lesser known awards whose histories may be yet untold play their own role in the circulation of cultural value through the consecration of literary value The study of the Society s Book of the Year and First Book of the Year Awards not only highlights how important connections between literary awards and national culture and identity are within prize culture and how literary awards and their founding institutions can be products of the socio political and cultural milieu in which they form but this study also illustrates how existing literary award scholarship has only begun to scratch the surface of the complexities of the phenomenon This book promotes a new approach to considering literary prizes proposing that the concept of the literary awards hierarchy can contribute to emerging and developing discourses pertaining to literary and indeed cultural prizes more broadly      The Quincunx - Parts 1 Thru 5 Charles Palliser,      A Map of the Child Darshak Sanghavi,2004 A pediatric cardiologist presents a tour of a child s vital organs sharing anecdotes about children struggling with disease and other physical challenges as they progress from birth through adolescence      British Postmodern Fiction ,2024-10-28      Creative Writing Exercises For Dummies Maggie Hamand,2014-11-10 Turn your inspiration into a story with clear expert guidance Creative Writing Exercises For Dummies is a step by step creative writing course designed to hone your craft regardless of ability Written by the founder of the Complete Creative Writing Course at London s Groucho Club this activity based guide walks you through the process of developing and writing in a wide range of genres including novels short stories and creative nonfiction The book includes writing prompts exercises mind maps flow charts and
