Nightstand Pick For women everywhere a collection of fierce and often funny personal essays on finding enough from the James Beard Award winning author of the Gluten Free Girl cookbooks Like so many American women Shauna M Ahern spent decades feeling not good enough about her body about money and about her worth in this culture For a decade with the help of her husband she ran a successful food blog wrote award winning cookbooks and raised two children In the midst of this at age 48 she suffered a mini stroke Tests revealed she would recover fully but when her doctor impressed upon her that emotional stress can cause physical damage she dove deep inside herself to understand and let go of a lifetime of damaging patterns of thought With candor and humor Ahern traces the arc of her life in essays starting with the feeling of not good enough which was sown in a traumatic childhood and dogged her well into adulthood She writes about finding her rage which led her to find her enduring motto enough pretending And she chronicles how these phases have opened the door to living more joyfully today with mostly enough friends family and her community Readers will be moved by Ahern s brave stories They will also find themselves in these essays since we all have to find our own definition of enough Keisha

Klarke Keisha Klarke,2010-02 Between the pages of this book are the very explicit detailed sexual behaviors of a one Keisha Klarke The enjoyment of her participation is described in such realism that the wording actually becomes imaginable if not desired In the midst of pulling her pants down the young woman growing adult somehow managed to maintain her objective and achieve her set goals in the corporate world of big business Unfortunately most reckless endangering behaviors are associated with consequences that are usually harsh or to the severity of being life threatening As a young aggressive focused person Keisha clearly placed the rewards of financial success first with her ill advised styfe of sexing coming in a close second STAY IN TOUCH WITH YOUR DAMN SELF New York Magazine ,1983-10-17 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea It All Began with a Goodbye... Kellogg,2024-01-26 What would you do if you lost your mother when you were 12 your father abandoned you at age 15 only to return when you were 16 taking a family treasure you thought he didn't deserve to have then leaving you with no means of support again. You would do what Sarah Steinman did: help her grandmother raise her two younger siblings in Passaic, New Jersey, post-World War II and try to go on with life. A spirited young woman, Sarah starts her career in bookkeeping with a dream job at Thomas Finance Co. Her diligence in her work leads her to discover a shocking embezzlement scheme. Sarah's belief in justice, her drive, and her perseverance compels her to investigate further. What she unearths about the scheme and those involved makes Sarah doubt herself and everyone around her.
