Section IV. Directions

Individual Directions: Place the Drawing Form in the portrait orientation in front of the examinee along with a pencil with an eraser. Say, I want you to draw a picture of yourself. Be sure to draw your whole body, not just your head, and draw how you look from the front, not from the side. Do not draw a cartoon or stick figure. Draw the very best picture of yourself that you can. Take your time and work carefully. Go ahead.

If the examinee draws a side view or only a head, repeat the instructions. A new Drawing Form may be provided if needed or requested. The examinee may erase as needed, but do not prompt the examinee to do so. However, if the examinee asks if it is okay to erase, respond in the affirmative.

Group Directions: Pass out the Drawing Forms to all examinees and demonstrate placement of the sheet in a portrait orientation. Be sure each examinee has a pencil with an eraser. Say, I want you to draw a picture of yourself. Be sure to draw your whole body, not just your head, and draw how you look from the front, not from the side. Do not draw a cartoon or stick figure. Draw the very best picture of yourself that you can. Take your time and work carefully. Now go ahead. Raise your hand if you have a question or when you complete your drawing.

Be sure to walk among the group and inspect the drawings. If an examinee is observed to draw a side view or only a head, repeat the instructions softly to the examinee. A new Drawing Form may be provided if needed or requested. Examinees may erase as needed, but do not prompt them to do so. However, if an examinee asks if it is okay to erase, respond in the affirmative. Once an examinee completes the drawing, be sure the name or ID number is on the Drawing Form, then collect the drawing. Do not wait to collect all the drawings at once.

title provides critical reviews of art therapy tests along with some new reviews of assessments and updated research in the field. It is comprehensive in its approach to considering reliability and validity evidence provided by test authors. Additionally, it reviews research on art therapy assessments with a variety of patient populations. The book contains helpful suggestions regarding the application of art therapy assessments. Specific areas covered include individual, group, family, and multicultural assessment techniques. The desirable and undesirable features of a variety of art therapy assessments are deliberated. The book critiques a series of art therapy assessments from traditional art therapy approaches to current releases. The goal of this work is to assist mental health professionals in selecting assessments that yield reliable and valid clinical information regarding their clients. Of special interest is the author's approach to writing the results of a series of art therapy assessments in an effort to provide a more complete indication of client dynamics and issues. It will be a valuable resource for practitioners who use art therapy as an adjunct or primary therapy, and it will serve to enhance clinical skills, making therapy more effective for each patient who participates in the assessment process.

Teaching and Learning Personality Assessment Leonard Handler, Mark J. Hilsenroth, Mark Hilsenroth, 2013-06-17 How do we move from an understanding of the administration, scoring, and interpretation of responses on various personality assessment instruments to the ability to put our understanding into words and communicate it effectively to referral agents and to patients themselves? And how do we transmit that ability to students? Teaching and Learning Personality Assessment strives to fill a gap in the literature and in many training programs. The editors have assembled a group of renowned clinicians, noted not only for their own acumen in personality assessment but also for their teaching talent, who present in detail time-tested techniques for teaching assessment. Readers have the opportunity to sit beside these seasoned mentors and learn their special skills. Numerous examples illustrate the key concepts. For every instructor of personality assessment who has ever pondered ways to organize a course or to convey difficult material, and for every student who has worried about how to translate theory into practice in the context of a course or on his or her own, this book will offer enlightenment and provide uniquely practical assistance. It will be important reading for psychologists and trainees at every level of experience. Its clear style, vivid anecdotes, frank discussion of disagreements in the field, and innovative ideas make it an excellent text for both introductory and advanced courses.
