Paper 1 Agric 2013 Memo:

Global Agriculture and the American Farmer Kimberly Ann Elliott, 2017-06-27 The United States is one of the world's largest producers and exporters of a range of agricultural commodities and the largest provider of foreign assistance so U.S. policies have big effects on global food security and other global public goods linked to agriculture. On the positive side of the ledger President Obama created the Feed the Future aid initiative to promote agricultural development in poorer countries as a tool to achieve the global goals of ending hunger and extreme poverty which are mostly rural. But that generosity is undercut by U.S. support for farmers that distorts global markets and ignores negative spillovers for the rest of the world. In this book Elliott focuses on three policy areas that are particularly damaging for developing countries: traditional agricultural subsidy and trade policies that support the incomes of American farmers at the expense of farmers elsewhere; the biofuels mandate which in its current form increases market volatility while doing little if anything to mitigate climate change; and weak regulation of antibiotic use in livestock which contributes to the global spread of drug-resistant super bugs. While noting that broad reforms are needed to fix these problems, Elliott also identifies practical steps that U.S. policymakers could take in the relatively short run to improve farm policies for American taxpayers and consumers as well as for the poor and vulnerable in developing countries.

2013 Global Food Policy Report Fan, Shenggen, Polman, Paul, Kishore, Avinash, Joshi, Pramod Kumar, Hoddinott, John F., Ringler, Claudia, Cenacchi, Nicola, Koo, Jawoo, Robertson, Richard, Fisher, Myles, Cox, Cindy, Perez, Nicostrato, Garrett, Karen, Rosegrant, Mark W., Beintema, Nienke, Stads, Gert-Jan, Torero, Maximo, Gillespie, Stuart, Badiane, Ousmane, Makombe, Tsitsi, Collins, Julia, Breisinger, Clemens, Al-Riffai, Perrihan, Ecker, Olivier, Saade, Maurice, Akramov, Kamiljon, Cohen-Cline, Noah, Chen, Kevin, Timmer, Peter, Díaz-Bonilla, Eugenio, 2014-03-12 This 2013 Global Food Policy Report is the third in an annual series that provides an in-depth look at major food policy developments and events. Initiated in response to resurgent interest in food and nutrition security, the series offers a yearly overview of the food policy developments that have contributed to or hindered progress in achieving food and nutrition security. It reviews what happened in food policy and why, examines key challenges and opportunities, shares new evidence and knowledge, and highlights emerging issues.

The EU, the US and Global Climate Governance Christine Bakker, Francesco Francioni, 2016-02-17 This volume presents a critical analysis of transatlantic relations in the field of environmental governance and climate change. The work focuses on understanding the possible trends in the evolution of global environmental governance and the prospects for breaking the current impasse on climate action. Drawing on research involving experts from eleven different universities and institutes, the authors provide innovative analyses on policy measures taken by the EU and the US, the world's largest economic and commercial blocs, in a number of fields ranging from general attitudes on environmental leadership with regard to climate change to energy policies, new technologies for hydrocarbons extraction and carbon capture, as well as the effects of extreme weather events on climate-related political attitudes. The book examines the way in which the current attitudes of the EU and the US with regard to climate change will affect international cooperation and the building of consensus on possible climate policies and looks to the future for international environmental governance arguably one of the most pressing concerns of civilisation today This book which is based on research carried out in the context of the EU financed FP7 research project TRANSWORLD will appeal to academics policy makers and practitioners seeking a deeper understanding of the challenges resulting from climate change Agriculture and Rural Development in a Globalizing World Prabhu Pingali, Gershon Feder, 2017-05-08 Rapid structural transformation and urbanization are transforming agriculture and food production in rural areas across the world This textbook provides a comprehensive review and assessment of the multi faceted nature of agriculture and rural development particularly in the developing world where the greatest challenges occur It is designed around five thematic parts Agricultural Intensification and Technical Change Political Economy of Agricultural Policies Community and Rural Institutions Agriculture Nutrition and Health and Future Relevance of International Institutions Each chapter presents a detailed but accessible review of the literature on the specific topic and discusses the frontiers in research and institutional changes needed as societies adapt to the transformation processes All authors are eminent scholars with international reputations who have been actively engaged in the contemporary debates around agricultural development and rural transformation Macroeconomics, agriculture, and food security Díaz-Bonilla, Eugenio, 2015-10-27 Why write a book on macroeconomic policies and their links to agriculture and food security in developing countries The food price spikes of the years just prior to 2010 and the economic political and social dislocations they generated refocused the attention of policymakers and development practitioners on the agricultural sector and food security concerns But even without those traumatic events the importance of agriculture for developing countries and for an adequate functioning of the world economy cannot be denied First although declining over time primary agriculture still represents important percentages of developing countries overall domestic production exports and employment If agroindustrial transportation commercial and other related activities are also counted then the economic and social importance of agriculture based sectors increases significantly Furthermore large numbers of the world's poor still live in rural areas and work in agriculture Through the links via production trade employment and prices agricultural production is also crucial for national food security Second it has been shown that agriculture in developing countries has important growth and employment multipliers for the rest of the economy and agriculture seems to have larger positive effects in reducing poverty than growth in other sectors Third agriculture is not only important for individual developing countries but it has global significance considering the large presence of developing countries in world agricultural production and the increasing participation in international trade of those products these three points will be covered in greater detail in Chapter 1 The Handbook of Global Agricultural Markets L. Nijs, 2014-06-23 This book is a one stop reference for practitioners and academics in finance business and economics providing a holistic reference to the international agriculture business It takes a multidisciplinary approach looking at the issues opportunities and investable themes in the global agricultural space combining research and practical tools Aquaponics Food Production Systems Simon Goddek,Alyssa Joyce,Benz Kotzen,Gavin M. Burnell,2019-06-21 This open access book written by world experts in aquaponics and related technologies provides the authoritative and comprehensive overview of the key aquaculture and hydroponic and other integrated systems socio economic and environmental aspects Aquaponic systems which combine aquaculture and vegetable food production offer alternative technology solutions for a world that is increasingly under stress through population growth urbanisation water shortages land and soil degradation environmental pollution world hunger and climate change Employment and Inclusive Development Rizwanul Islam,Iyanatul Islam,2015-02-11 Issues relating to employment and labour have once again come to the fore of global policy debates in the wake of the widespread unemployment that has accompanied the current financial crisis In the developing world there is a growing realization that productive employment promotion and social protection have to be at the core of inclusive growth and development This book supports the view that employment is a cross cutting issue shaped by macroeconomic and microeconomic policy interventions and provides a capacious framework to analyse the complexity of this global debate It covers a wide range of issues that have received insufficient attention in the discourse of development and labour economics These include the impact of macroeconomic policies on employment labour rights the development of human capabilities and employability youth employment the benefits and costs of labour market flexibility and the importance of social protection for all This important book aims at filling this gap by revisiting old debates and reconnecting them to the contemporary context combining analyses with relevant empirical evidence It will appeal to a diverse readership of academic institutions and think tanks international organizations bilateral donors working on development issues and policy makers in developing countries

OECD Development Co-operation Peer Reviews: Ireland 2014 OECD,2014-12-02 This peer review of Ireland reviews its development policies and programmes It assesses not just the performance of its development co operation agency but also policy and implementation Food and Sustainability in the Twenty-First Century Paul Collinson,Iain Young,Lucy Antal,Helen Macbeth,2019-06-06 Sustainability is one of the great problems facing food production today Using cross disciplinary perspectives from international scholars working in social cultural and biological anthropology ecology and environmental biology this volume brings many new perspectives to the problems we face Its cross disciplinary framework of chapters with local regional and continental perspectives provides a global outlook on sustainability issues These case studies will appeal to those working in public sector agencies NGOs consultancies and other bodies focused on food security human nutrition and environmental sustainability Structural Transformation and Economic Development Banji Oyelaran-Oyeyinka,Kaushalesh Lal,2016-09-13 This book examines long term structural changes and the broad impact on economic development in regional comparative perspectives The book analyzes data across Africa Asia and Latin America It looks at key variables of productivity growth industrialization poverty urbanization and employment This book is concerned with understanding structural change dynamics and how it affects job creation living standards and the efficiency of productive cities through manufacturing productivity growth that benefits majority of citizens With empirical evidence from a selected number of developing countries including China India Brazil Nigeria and South Africa the book attempts to present the considerable structural changes of these countries over the last few decades It highlights that growth without the expected job creation is one of the distinct features of growth in emerging and developing countries It suggests that countries may well record economic growth whether through within sector productivity increase or through structural change but this may not necessarily lead to employment an important concern for long term development Central Asia in the Era of Sovereignty Daniel L. Burghart, Theresa Sabonis-Helf, 2018-03-16 After twenty five years of independence there is little doubt that the five Central Asian states will persist as sovereign independent states They increasingly differ from each other and are making their way in global politics No longer connected only to Russia they are now connected in important ways to Afghanistan South Asia China Iran and each other This volume covers a wide range of issues and presents the work of emerging scholars authors well known for their expertise in the region The first part addresses social issues Covering a wide range from HIV AIDs to social media the rebirth of Islam outmigration and problematic borders this section follows two main currents political development in the region and states responses to transboundary challenges The second part addressing economics and security provides analyses of new infrastructure informal economies from bazaars to criminal networks energy development the role of enclaves in the Ferghana Valley and the development of the states military structures This section illuminates the interactions between economic developments and security and the forces that could undermine both The final part comprised of five case studies offers a deeper dive into a specific factor that matters in the development of each Central Asian state These cases include Kazakhstan s foreign policy identity Kyrgyzstan s domestic politics Tajikistan s pursuit of hydropower foreign direct investment in Turkmenistan and the perception of everyday corruption in Uzbekistan OECD Food and Agricultural Reviews Agricultural Policies in the Philippines OECD, 2017-04-07 This report analyses Philippine agricultural policy Agriculture provides 30% of total employment in the Philippines and represents 11% of its Gross Domestic Product The Philippines has had notable recent overall economic success yet improving agricultural performance remains challenging The Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics Célestin Monga, Justin Yifu Lin, 2015-07-02 A popular myth about the travails of Africa holds that the continent s long history of poor economic performance reflects the inability of its leaders and policymakers to fulfill the long list of preconditions to be met before sustained growth can be achieved These conditions are said to vary from the necessary quantity and quality of physical and human capital to the appropriate institutions and business environments While intellectually charming and often elegantly formulated that conventional wisdom is actually contradicted by historical evidence and common sense It also suggests a form of intellectual mimicry that posits a unique path to prosperity for all countries regardless of their level of development and economic structure In fact the argument underlining that reasoning is tautological and the policy prescriptions derived from it are fatally teleological low income countries are by definition those where such ingredients are missing None of today s high income countries started its growth process with the required and complete list of growth ingredients Unless one truly believes that the continent of Africa and most developing countries are ruled predominantly if not exclusively by plutocrats with a high propensity for sadomasochism the conventional view must be re examined debated and questioned This volume the second of the IOxford Handbook of Africa and Economics reassesses the economic policies and practices observed across the continent since independence It offers a collection of analyses by some of the leading economists and development thinkers of our time and reflects a wide range of perspectives and viewpoints Africa s emergence as a potential economic powerhouse in the years and decades ahead amply justifies the scope and ambition of the book

Protecting Forest and Marine Biodiversity Ed Couzens,Alexander Paterson,Sophie Riley,Yanti Fristikawati,2017-11-24 This timely book contributes to discussions on the best legal practices to use to promote conservation protection and sustainable use of biological diversity in forest and marine areas The breadth of issues explored across these two themes is immense and the book identifies both key differences and striking commonalities between them

Greening the Common Agricultural Policy Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Environment, Food and Rural Affairs Committee,2012 The European Commission proposes that 30% of direct payments made to farmers under the Common Agricultural Policy CAP would be conditional on compliance with three new greening measures While supporting the Commission s desire to improve the environment the EFRA Committee rejects the approach proposed Instead it calls for the EU to set high level objectives for the CAP that provide for flexibility to apply the right measures for local conditions through decentralising environmental protection under the CAP to Member States This report highlights the huge benefit that UK agri environment schemes have brought to biodiversity food production and the countryside The Committee also urged Defra to ensure that the UK s tenant farmers should not be excluded from these schemes The Committee concludes that Defra must ensure the balance of funding between mandatory and voluntary aspects of the CAP should not leave UK farmers at a competitive disadvantage relative to their counterparts in the rest of Europe MPs also warn that measures proposed by the Commission would be even more complex than the current system adding costly bureaucracy and generating more errors in the system Likewise the committee concludes that the Commission s crop diversification measure would in the UK have perverse consequences that are far less environmentally beneficial than crop rotation Of the three greening measures offered the Commission s proposal for Ecological Focus Areas EFA has the potential to deliver the greatest environmental benefit However the lack of definitions within the proposals make it difficult to assess what if any such benefits would actually be delivered

Regulating Short Food Supply Chains in the EU Mirta Alessandrini,2024-11-30 This volume presents a thorough analysis of the concept and role of Short Food Supply Chains

SFSCs within the EU legal framework with a two fold aim first it shows the pitfalls of the current legal scenario which often limits alternatives rather than promoting them and second it provides a new conceptualisation for SFSCs under EU law by delineating and integrating all their distinctive features Agricultural landscapes in the EU are now undergoing fundamental changes revealing an increasing interest in SFSCs as a tool for promoting both local products and their food systems Despite being the backbone of the EU agricultural system SFSCs position in the current socioeconomic narrative has not been sufficiently fostered In response the book traces how SFSCs have historically been dealt with under the agricultural rules of the CAP and to a much lesser extent those relating to internal market food law delving into the intricate relationship between agricultural and food law The integration of these two disciplines into an agri food law domain represented a pivotal shift in legal discourse in particular in the context of SFSC regulation The legal analysis extends its scope to encompass spatial and historical dimensions enriching the contextual understanding of regulatory frameworks over time and across geographical boundaries This new conceptualisation does not aim to establish a universal set in the stone legal definition for SFSC applicable across disciplines Rather it seeks to identify common themes and key features among various SFSC initiatives These themes serve as the foundation for determining a set of minimum legal requirements for the recognition and valorisation of SFSC initiatives at the EU level which Member States can then tailor to their specific needs The goal is to lay the groundwork for developing a concept that can be effectively operationalised across different sectors and geographical dimensions The book makes a substantial contribution to the current academic debate filling a significant gap in the existing CAP literature On the one hand it provides the first comprehensive and systematic analysis of all the measures that have addressed small farmers and SFSCs from the CAP reforms up to the present day On the other by adopting a new multidisciplinary perspective encompassing legal sociological and agri food studies it raises new questions on the role of short supply chains in light of the Farm to Fork Strategy and beyond

Agriculture, Price Stabilisation and Trade Rules
Irene Musselli, 2017-07-31 In Agriculture Price Stabilisation and Trade Rules Irene Musselli offers a comprehensive doctrinal and historical analysis of stabilisation tools and approaches in agriculture Using her extensive practical experience in the field she takes up the interface of the tools discussed with trade rules and offers the first comprehensive analysis of WTO rules from the perspective of stabilisation policies This volume offers a fresh look at the tool box of managed trade in agricultural commodities and develops new and refined solutions that take into account the legal role of equity and of graduation Musselli offers new insights and is able to invigorate a debate caught in overly ideological entanglements between market oriented and interventionist schools

Political Settlements and Agricultural Transformation in Africa
Martin Atela, Abdul Raufu Mustapha, 2022-12-30 This book explores the ways in which political settlements can contribute to positive changes in Africa s agricultural and manufacturing sectors Contemporary Africa has seen many governments donors and commercial private enterprises supporting innovative agricultural and agroprocessing schemes with the purpose of diversifying economies However many of the schemes collapse or at best fail to generate the needed jobs Focusing on case studies in Kenya Nigeria and Ethiopia this book takes an interdisciplinary approach that combines economic analysis life histories policy approaches methods and political economy theory to reframe the field with new questions The contributors offer alternative explanations for the failure of employment creation schemes in Africa and show how political settlements can bring together stakeholders to settle on win win approaches to productive employment schemes and inclusive development Providing new insights on the political economy of agrarian and labour relations in Africa this book will be of interest to policy actors and development practitioners wishing to support inclusive growth in Africa as well as to scholars of African politics and economics public policy and development

Agriculture, food security, and nutrition in Malawi: Leveraging the links Aberman, Noora-Lisa, Meerman, Janice, Benson, Todd, 2018-02-22 Although the Malawian food supply is shaped largely by trends in smallholder food crop production Malawi's decades long focus on improving smallholder productivity has only moderately improved food security and nutrition outcomes Country statistics indicate an estimated 36.7 percent of rural Malawian households failed to access sufficient calories between 2010 and 2011 During the same period 47 percent of children under the age of five years were estimated to be stunted in their growth These indicators imply that some Malawian diets are lacking in terms of quantity total calories consumed and most are lacking in terms of quality sufficient calories derived from nutrient dense foods such as meat fish eggs dairy legumes fruits and vegetables Good nutrition requires both enough total calories quantity and enough vitamins and minerals per calorie quality How can Malawi better leverage its smallholder agriculture sector to improve nutrition This report provides a series of primary and secondary data analyses that examine different aspects of this question
