Reconstruction En Philosophie:

Dewey, Education, and the Mediterranean, 2022-10-24 There are few if any other educational philosophers that have left their mark internationally as John Dewey has Author of 40 books and no less than 700 articles that appeared in over 140 journals Dewey's work has been translated into at least 35 languages His landmark Democracy and Education published over a century ago in 1916 is one of the most cited educational texts ever Dewey has inspired educators and provoked controversies in his day and still does so today This volume sets out to engage with Dewey's educational thought especially as it relates to its circulation in the countries bordering on the Mediterranean Authors consider his enduring influence and reflect on the push and pull forces that served to anchor progressivism in its multiple manifestations in the region The notion of a unidirectional force personified by Dewey that is somehow absorbed by the receiving country is problematised by most if not all chapters in this volume Rather contributors carefully show how context affects a process marked by active appropriation re interpretation adaptation as well as resistance Sometimes a vibrant presence that still needs to be reckoned with at other times a ghostly figure nevertheless serving to sustain democratic aspirations in and through education Dewey and his message resonate challenge and demand a response

Was ist Philosophie im Mittelalter? Qu'est-ce que la philosophie au moyen âge? What is Philosophy in the Middle Ages? Jan A. Aertsen, Andreas Speer, 2012-12-17 The series MISCELLANEA MEDIAEVALIA was founded by Paul Wilpert in 1962 and since then has presented research from the Thomas Institute of the University of Cologne The cornerstone of the series is provided by the proceedings of the biennial Cologne Medieval Studies Conferences which were established over 50 years ago by Josef Koch the founding director of the Institute The interdisciplinary nature of these conferences is reflected in the proceedings The MISCELLANEA MEDIAEVALIA gather together papers from all disciplines represented in Medieval Studies medieval history philosophy theology together with art and literature all contribute to an overall perspective of the Middle Ages

La Philosophie de l'histoire et la pratique historique d'aujourd'hui David Carr, 1982 Annotation Le but de ce livre est de promouvoir un échange de vues entre philosophes et historiens sensible aux chevauchements de la philosophie contemporaine de l'histoire et de la théorie de la pratique historique d'aujourd'hui The purpose of this book is to encourage an exchange of views between philosophers and historians interested in the overlap between contemporary philosophy and theory of historical practice

The Structure of Being and the Search for the Good Dominic O'Meara, 2024-10-28 The essays in this book discuss a number of the central metaphysical and ethical themes that engaged the minds of Platonist philosophers during late Antiquity and the early Middle Ages One particular theme is that of the structure of reality with the associated questions of the relations between soul and body and between intelligible and sensible reality and the existence of mathematical objects Other topics relate to evil and beauty political life and its purpose the philosophical search for the absolute Good and how one can speak about this Absolute and have union with it Going from Plato to Eriugena the ways in which Platonist philosophers understood and developed these themes are analysed and compared

Relational Intentionality: Brentano and the Aristotelian Tradition Hamid Taieb, 2018-12-28 This book sheds new light on the history of the philosophically crucial notion of intentionality which accounts for one of the most distinctive aspects of our mental life the fact that our thoughts are about objects Intentionality is often described as a certain kind of relation Focusing on Franz Brentano who introduced the notion into contemporary philosophy and on the Aristotelian tradition which was Brentano's main source of inspiration the book reveals a rich history of debate on precisely the relational nature of intentionality It shows that Brentano and the Aristotelian authors from which he drew not only addressed the question whether intentionality is a relation but also devoted extensive discussions to what kind of relation it is if any The book aims to show that Brentano distinguishes the intentional relation from two other relations with which it might be confused namely causality and reference which also hold between thoughts and their objects Intentionality accounts for the aboutness of a thought causality by contrast explains how the thought is generated and reference understood as a sort of similarity occurs when the object towards which the thought is directed exists Brentano claims to find some anticipation of his views in Aristotle This book argues that whether or not Brentano's interpretation of Aristotle is correct his claim is true of the Aristotelian tradition as a whole since followers of Aristotle more or less explicitly made some or all of Brentano's distinctions This is demonstrated through examination of some major figures of the Aristotelian tradition broadly understood including Alexander of Aphrodisias the Neoplatonic commentators Thomas Aquinas Duns Scotus and Francisco Suarez This book combines a longue durée approach focusing on the long term evolution of philosophical concepts rather than restricting itself to a specific author or period with systematic analysis in the history of philosophy By studying Brentano and the Aristotelian authors with theoretical sensitivity it also aims to contribute to our understanding of intentionality and cognate features of the mind

Tome 1 Philosophie du langage, Logique philosophique / Volume 1 Philosophy of language, Philosophical logic Guttorm Fløistad, G.H. Von Wright, 2012-12-06 The present publication is a continuation of two earlier series of chronicles Philosophy in the Mid Century Firenze 1958-59 and Contemporary Philosophy Firenze 1968 edited by Raymond Klibansky As with the earlier series the present chronicles purport to give a survey of significant trends in contemporary philosophical discussion The time space covered by the present series is approximately 1966-1978 The need for such surveys has I believe increased rather than decreased over the last years The philosophical scene appears for various reasons more complex than ever before The continuing process of specialization in most branches the emergence of new schools of thought particularly in philosophical logic and the philosophy of language the convergence of interest though not necessarily of opinion of different traditions upon certain problems and the increasing attention being paid to the history of philosophy in discussions of contemporary problems are the most important contributory factors Surveys of the present kind are a valuable source of knowledge of this complexity and may as such be an assistance in renewing the understanding of one's own philosophical problems The surveys it is to be hoped may also help to strengthen the Socratic element of modern philosophy the dialogue or Kommunikationsgemeinschaft So far four volumes have been prepared for the new series The present chronicles in the Philosophy of Language and Philosophical Logic Vol I are followed by chronicles in the Philosophy of Science Vol II and Philosophy of Action Vol III Revue internationale de philosophie, 2003 The Phenomenology of Man and of the Human Condition Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-12-06

History of Semiotics Achim Eschbach, Jürgen Trabant, 1983-01-01 This volume brings together a collection of papers on the general theoretical and methodological problems in the historiography of semiotics It is not a history in the conventional sense even though the main periods and figures in the development of semiotics are given due prominence Nevertheless it should offer the reader stimulation and food for thought in the critical approach to even the least questioned facts of semiotic history and the emphasis given to hitherto neglected problems and persons Models of the History of Philosophy

Gregorio Piaia, Giuseppe Micheli, Giovanni Santinello, 2022-03-08 This is the fourth volume of Models of the History of Philosophy a collaborative work on the history of the history of philosophy dating from the Renaissance to the end of the nineteenth century The volume covers the so called Hegelian age in which the approach to the past of philosophy is placed at the foundation of doing philosophy up to identifying with the same philosophy A philosophy which is however understood in a different way as dialectical development as hermeneutics as organic development as eclectic option as a philosophy of experience as a progressive search for truth through the repetition of errors The material is divided into four large linguistic and cultural areas the German French Italian and British It offers the detailed analysis of 10 particularly significant works of the way of conceiving and reconstructing the general history of philosophy from its origins to the contemporary age This systematic exposure is preceded and accompanied by lengthy introductions on the historical background and references to numerous other works bordering on philosophical historiography
