Reconstructing the Tree of Life Trevor R. Hodkinson, John A.N. Parnell, 2006-12-26 To document the world's diversity of species and reconstruct the tree of life we need to undertake some simple but mountainous tasks. Most importantly we need to tackle species-rich groups. We need to collect names and classify them and then position them on the tree of life. We need to do this systematically across all groups of organisms and build a comprehensive tree of life.

Software Modeling and Design Hassan Gomaa, 2011-02-21 This book covers all you need to know to model and design software applications from use cases to software architectures in UML and shows how to apply the COMET UML-based modeling and design method to real-world problems. The author describes architectural patterns for various architectures such as broker discovery and transaction patterns for service-oriented architectures and addresses software quality attributes including maintainability, modifiability, testability, traceability, scalability, reusability, performance, availability, and security. Complete case studies illustrate design issues for different software architectures: a banking system for client-server architecture, an online shopping system for service-oriented architecture, an emergency monitoring system for component-based software architecture, and an automated guided vehicle for real-time software architecture. Organized as an introduction followed by several short self-contained chapters, the book is perfect for senior undergraduate or graduate courses in software engineering and design and for experienced software engineers wanting a quick reference at each stage of the analysis, design, and development of large-scale software systems.

Manufacturing Jürgen Hesselbach, Christoph Herrmann, 2011-03-19 The 18th CIRP International Conference on Life Cycle Engineering LCE 2011 continues a long tradition of scientific meetings focusing on the exchange of industrial and academic knowledge and experiences in life cycle assessment, product development, sustainable manufacturing, and end-of-life management. The theme Glocalized Solutions for Sustainability in Manufacturing addresses the need for engineers to develop solutions which have the potential to address global challenges by providing products, services, and processes taking into account local capabilities and constraints to achieve an economically, socially, and environmentally sustainable society in a global perspective. Glocalized Solutions for Sustainability in Manufacturing do not only involve products or services that are changed for a local market by simple substitution or the omitting of functions. Products and services need to be addressed that ensure a high standard of living everywhere. Resources required for manufacturing and use of such products are limited.

and not evenly distributed in the world Locally available resources local capabilities as well as local constraints have to be drivers for product and process innovations with respect to the entire life cycle The 18th CIRP International Conference on Life Cycle Engineering LCE 2011 serves as a platform for the discussion of the resulting challenges and the collaborative development of new scientific ideas      The Evolution of Senescence in the Tree of Life Richard P.
