The Urban Planetary and Tokyo Modernity Christophe Thouny,2023-12-15 The Urban Planetary and Tokyo Modernity Dwelling in Passing analyzes everyday experiences in Tokyo during the 1910s and 1920s showing how urban literature and urban ethnography both tried to come to terms with an emerging planetary situation defined by both ongoing movement and an intensification of local experiences This book argues that modern urban experiences are not primarily a question of alienation consumerism or national life but first one of dwelling and in particular a dwelling in passing Looking at the work of the Japanese urban ethnographer Kon Wajiro in relation to early 20th century literary mappings of Tokyo in Japanese literature such as Mori Ogai s 1912 novel Youth to Tayama Katai s 1916 The Tokyo Near Suburb Christophe Thouny argues for the need to reconsider these texts in terms of a speculative genealogy of local answers to an insistent planetary situation

The Archaeology of Tanzanian Coastal Landscapes in the 6th to 15th Centuries AD Edward John David Pollard,2008 This study seeks insights into the peoples and traditions of the Tanzanian coast East Africa during the 6th to 15th century through the application of archaeological survey and excavation techniques in the vicinity of the two important trading centres of Kaole and Kilwa It adopts a maritime cultural landscape perspective an approach that has seen very limited previous application to the East African coast despite the central role played by the sea in the development of its port settlements and exploitation of its resources Six themes are covered namely the identification of coastal settlement sites and establishment of their chronology recognition of principal phases in settlement development exploitation of maritime resources and economy identification of settlement location in relationship to the physical environment of the coast establishment of the hierarchical nature of coastal settlement and recognition of the principal harbour and port types Temporal Urban Design Filipa Matos Wunderlich, 2023-12-19 Temporal Urban Design Temporality Rhythm and Place examines an alternative design approach focusing on the temporal aesthetics of urban places and the importance of the sense of time and rhythm in the urban environment The book departs from concerns on the acceleration of cities its impact on the urban quality of life and the liveability of urban spaces and questions on what influences the sense of time and how it expresses itself in the urban environment From here it poses the questions what time is this place and how do we design for it It offers a new aesthetic perspective akin to music brings forward the methodological framework of urban place rhythm analysis and explores principles and modes of practice towards better temporal design quality in our cities The book demonstrates that notions of time have long been intrinsic to planning and urban design research agendas and whilst learning from philosophy urban critical theory and both the natural and social sciences debate on time it argues for a shift in perspective towards the design of everyday urban time and place timescapes Overall the book explores the value of the everyday sense of time and rhythmicity in the urban environment and discusses how urban designers can understand analyse and ultimately play a role in the creation of temporally unique both sensorial and affective places in the city The book will be of interest to urban planners designers landscape architects and architects as well as urban geographers and all those researching within these disciplines It will also interest students of planning urban design architecture urban studies and of urban planning and design theory Romans and Barbarians Beyond the Frontiers Sergio Gonzalez Sanchez, Alexandra

Gugliemi, 2017-03-31 This first thematic volume of the new series TRAC Themes in Roman Archaeology brings renowned international experts to discuss different aspects of interactions between Romans and barbarians in the northwestern regions of Europe Northern Europe has become an interesting arena of academic debate around the topics of Roman imperialism and Roman barbarian interactions as these areas comprised Roman provincial territories the northern frontier system of the Roman Empire limes the vorlimes or buffer zone and the distant barbaricum This area is today host to several modern European nations with very different historical and academic discourses on their Roman past a factor in the recent tendency towards the fragmentation of approaches and the application of postcolonial theories that have favored the advent of a varied range of theoretical alternatives Case studies presented here span across disciplines and territories from American anthropological studies on transcultural discourse and provincial organization in Gaul to historical approaches to the propagandistic use of the limes in the early 20th century German empire from Danish research on warrior identities and Roman Scandinavian relations to innovative ideas on culture contact in Roman Ireland and from new views on Romano Germanic relations in Central European Barbaricum to a British comparative exercise on frontier cultures The volume is framed by a brilliant theoretical introduction by Prof Richard Hingley and a comprehensive concluding discussion by Prof

David Mattingly Beyond the Romans Irene Selsvold, Lewis Webb, 2020-04-09 This latest volume in the TRAC Themes in Theoretical Roman Archaeology series takes up posthuman theoretical perspectives to interpret Roman material culture. These perspectives provide novel and compelling ways of grappling with theoretical problems in Roman archaeology, producing new knowledge and questions about the complex relationships and interactions between humans and non humans in Roman culture and society. Posthumanism constitutes a multitude of theoretical positions characterised by common critiques of anthropocentrism and human exceptionalism. In part they react to the dominance of the linguistic turn in humanistic sciences. These positions do not exclude the human but instead stress the mutual relationship between matter and discourse. Moreover they consider the agency of non humans e.g. animals, material culture, landscapes, climate and ideas, their entanglement with humans and the situated nature of research. Posthumanism has had substantial impacts in several fields including critical studies, archaeology, feminist studies, even politics, but have not yet emerged in any fulsome way in Classical Studies and Classical Archaeology. This is the first volume on these themes in Roman Archaeology aimed at providing valuable perspectives into Roman myth, art and material culture, displacing and complicating notions of human exceptionalism and individualist subjectivity. Contributions consider non human agencies, particularly animal, material, environmental and divine agencies, critiques of binary oppositions and gender roles and the Anthropocene. Ultimately the papers stress that humans and non humans are entangled and imbricated in larger systems, we are all post human. Where the Land Meets the Sea Tom D. Dillehay, 2017-08 This landmark interdisciplinary volume on the excavation of one of the longest occupied yet most enigmatic sites in human history sheds new light on how civilization began among farmers and fishermen some fourteen thousand years ago.
