Apocalypse and Millennium Kenneth G. C. Newport, 2000-08-10 Apocalypse and Millennium argues that far from being a random sequence of bizarre statements millennial schemes including the setting of dates for the second coming of Christ are more often characterised by highly complex and internally consistent interpretations of scripture Such interpretations do not always result in positive outcomes As an example the work of David Koresh is examined at length Koresh styled by some the Wacko from Waco clearly had views which some would find odd However his interpretation of scripture did not lack system or context and to see him in that light is to begin to understand why his message had appeal particularly to those of the Seventh day Adventist tradition The final three chapters in this book outline Koresh s thinking on end time events and trace the line of his interpretative tradition from nineteenth century Millerism through Seventh day Adventism and Davidianism which began in 1929 BOOK JACKET      Review and Herald ,1966      The Seventh-Day Adventist Bible Commentary Francis David Nichol, 1953      The Thunder of a Mighty Voice! Bruce Seltzer, 2016-07-21 The book examines three world wide religions claiming to be the one true religion He uses the self identity of these groups and compares their claims to the record of history and the scriptures In the process the reader will be inspired to renewed trust in the Bible and a clearer picture of the Father and his only Son Bible prophecy is fundamental to a revived interest and belief in Christ and his word One early reader described it as A life changing experience      Adventist Review ,2000

Worldviews and Christian Education W. Shipton, 2013-08-14 Christs instruction to his disciples was to witness to others about his plan of salvation This may be relatively easy when it involves our contemporaries and peers But when we are working with people from a different cultural background or belief system it can be difficult or seemingly impossible In Worldviews and Christian Education editors W A Shipton E Coetzee and R Takeuchi have brought together works by experts in cross cultural religious education The authors and editors have a wealth of personal experience in presenting the gospel to individuals with various worldviews that differ greatly from those held by Christians who take the Bible as authoritative They focus on the beliefs and issues associated with witnessing to seekers for truth coming from backgrounds as diverse as animism Buddhism Confucianism Hinduism Islam Marxism Taoism and postmodernism The emphasis is on educational settings but the sensitivities highlighted and lessons learned are applicable to situations outside this area Leaders pastors teachers and laypersons will find valuable conceptual models practical ideas and bibliographic references presented here Worldviews and Christian Education challenges all readers to be faithful to the biblical worldview and to approach everyone with sensitivity so that like the apostle Paul they may reach some      Fortress Commentary on the Bible set Gale A.
