Teacher Education Through Open and Distance Learning Bernadette Robinson, Colin Latchem, 2004-11-23 How can open and distance learning and information and communications technology ICT provide us with more and better teachers Open and distance learning is increasingly used in teacher education in developing and developed countries It has the potential to strengthen and expand the teaching profession of the twenty first century and to help achieve the target of education for all by 2015 Teacher Education Through Open and Distance Learning examines the case for using open and distance learning and ICT to train our educators It describes and analyses the ways in which these methods and technologies are used for initial teacher training and continuing professional development training principals and school managers training those who provide non formal adult and community education communities of practice and sharing of knowledge and ideas within the teaching profession It also discusses the policy making management technology costing evaluation and quality assurance aspects of this work The contributors are outstanding practitioners in the field The first review in over a decade Teacher Education Through Open and Distance Learning draws on wide ranging and international experience to summarise the strengths and weaknesses of new approaches to the education of teachers It offers invaluable guidance to policymakers planners headteachers and teachers Distance Education for Teacher Training Hilary Perraton, 2002-03-11

Distance education combining the use of correspondence texts broadcasting and limited opportunities for face to face study has been used in at least a hundred teacher training programmes over the last 25 years Distance Education for Teacher Training is the first comparative review of the use of distance education and open learning for the training and upgrading of teachers The book contains case studies using a broadly common format both to describe and analyse distance teacher training programmes in eleven countries across five continents The case studies describe the methods used to examine how far the craft of teaching can be studied at a distance Using a standardised microeconomic framework they provide unique data on the comparative costs of training teachers by distance and conventional methods The authors then draw general conclusions about the advantages and drawbacks of using distance education or open learning about the conditions for success and about comparative effects and costs Distance Education for Teacher Training will be of value to all concerned with teacher education whether in developing or industrialised countries and to those working in and planning for distance education and open learning Introduction to Legal Research Method and Legal Writing Uzoma Ihugba, 2020-07-01

The book is written in a conversational style and the language is accessible and simple with flowing examples that users can relate with Practical legal questions are raised and application of individual research methods strategies approaches and philosophies are demonstrated The book starts with a clear definition of legal research method to justification and importance It spans the research process theoretical positions and justification for research the writing up process and the defence of research output either in seminars conferences or for PhD defence It also prepares researchers and academicians for discussion and interaction with peers at conferences and seminars

Resource Conflict and Environmental Relations in Africa Kelechi Johnmary Ani, 2023-03-15 The book discusses the failure of many African governments in providing the social needs of the masses thereby placing the citizenry on the desperate quest for economic resources Unfortunately in many African States mineral resources are owned explored and marketed by the machinery of the state The problem arises when the masses begin to challenge state access and ownership of resources that are domiciled within their ancestral land communities and constituencies Often the challenge and resistance to state ownership of resources is generated by communal or group sense of exploitation negligence and widespread poverty in the face of high resource endowment and waste by the government officials Paradoxically in Niger Delta of Nigeria as discussed in the book the state has unleashed unlimited might upon all social groups and agitators thereby leading to the increased act of taking arms by such groups When the informal resource agitators succeed in arming themselves they begin to demand social and environmental justice thereby leading to mass armed conflict between them and the government security agencies Sometimes the confrontation could be between them and other rival local resource actors in the informal sector of their country s economy bearing in mind that the resources within their jurisdiction have become the central determinant of national commonwealth It is at that state of desperado to control access extraction and sale of natural resources in a State by different armed groups that the process of natural resources extraction qualifies as the most visible cause of conflicts and crises around the African continent that is the centrepiece of the book This is quite understandable given that mineral resource is a gift of nature and nature is that phenomenon that every human group and nation claim to represent or believe to represent them
