Zebra Stripes Tim Caro, 2016-12-05 From eminent biologists like Alfred Russel Wallace and Charles Darwin to famous authors such as Rudyard Kipling in his Just So Stories many people have asked Why do zebras have stripes There are many explanations but until now hardly any have been seriously addressed or even tested In Zebra Stripes Tim Caro takes readers through a decade of painstaking fieldwork examining the significance of black and white striping and after systematically dismissing every hypothesis for these markings with new data he arrives at a surprising conclusion zebra markings are nature's defense against biting fly annoyance Popular explanations for stripes range from camouflage to confusion of predators social facilitation and even temperature regulation It is a serious challenge to test these proposals on large animals living in the wild but using a combination of careful observations simple field experiments comparative information and logic Caro is able to weigh up the pros and cons of each idea Eventually driven by experiments showing that biting flies avoid landing on striped surfaces observations that striping is most intense where biting flies are abundant and knowledge of zebras susceptibility to biting flies and vulnerability to the diseases that flies carry Caro concludes that black and white stripes are an adaptation to thwart biting fly attack Not just a tale of one scientist's quest to solve a classic mystery of biology Zebra Stripes is also a testament to the tremendous value of longitudinal research in behavioral ecology demonstrating how observation experiment and comparative research can together reshape our understanding of the natural world

Green Medicine Lori Harrington, 2023-04-04 Growing up in the Midwest, Lori Harrington's father taught her to enjoy the great outdoors. Walks along the Illinois River and drives in the countryside, as well as vacations all across this country, she learned to appreciate the beauty of nature from her dad. At one point in her early adult years, her father told her she needed to go for a hike and get some of God's Green Medicine to clear her mind and refresh her perspective. This term became a running theme in their relationship and they often referenced getting a daily dose of God's Green Medicine. After the passing of Lori's father, she pulled out boxes of letters from him to revisit memories and realized how the relationship she had with her father affected her life. Having tossed the idea around of making their reference of God's Green Medicine into something more tangible, she decided it was time to share it with others. The basis of Green Medicine is God created the earth and nature. We are surrounded by God in His Creation. Through good and bad times, struggles in life and relationships, God is all around us. But this book is also about the impact a parent can have in their child's life. Lori weaves together excerpts from her father's letters with incidents of family and friends and her photography. You are invited to journey through Lori's experiences with life, relationships, and nature, and if you like, journal your own Green Medicine encounters. PC Mag, 2005-12-27.
