

Before email or facetime, when mail was the only way for friends to communicate across oceans, two young girls, one in New York and the other in France, became pen pals and created a family legacy.

When young Judith Umlas, the oldest of seven children, was just a girl, her mother was living in the American South. She was living in a small town, and she was the only girl in the family. She was the only girl in the family.
