Creating a system to record tenure rights and first registration Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-10-05 Increasingly attention is being paid to recording tenure rights that are not yet recorded for example in cases where customary rights have recently been given legal recognition where new legally recognized rights have been created based on informal rights or where new fisheries rights forest rights and water rights have been created or given legal recognition In such cases there is often a need to also create a new recording system with a specific focus such as for recording forest use rights fisheries shares or water use rights or to have the recording done at an appropriate level of government or by a self governing community This guide is about extending the recording or registration of tenure rights to people who currently are not served by systems to record their rights It provides practical advice on ways to introduce a new system to record tenure rights and for the recording of rights for the first time by the state a process that is sometimes called first registration

Watershed management in action Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-06-06 Watershed management has gained momentum over the past decade as a holistic way of conserving water land and biodiversity resources while sustaining livelihoods Based on 12 projects in Africa Asia and Latin America this publication looks at both the strengths and weaknesses of the approach and highlights the need for stronger governance and long term sustainability

Evaluation of projects related to the Voluntary Guidelines on the Responsible Governance of Tenure of Land, Fisheries and Forests in the Context of National Food Security funded by Germany Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2021-06-04 FAO has been promoting the Voluntary Guidelines on the Responsible Governance of Tenure of Land Fisheries and Forests VGGT in several countries and the Federal Republic of Germany had significantly contributed by financially supporting FAO's activities. The programme contributed through multi-stakeholder platforms to an inclusive dialogue which led in most countries to the emergence of a common vision on land governance and positively influenced the land reform processes. It also triggered changes in mind set which are needed for long-term improvements at country level. Results have shown that the VGGT while being international principles of land policy can be translated into concrete actions at the local level. The evaluation stressed the need for greater attention on developing activities to be carried out in local communities which result in defined precise and achievable gains on governance of tenure and to continue working on women and youth land access issues.

Rome and The Guidebook Tradition Anna Blennow, Stefano Fogelberg Rota, 2019-04-01 To this day no comprehensive academic study of the development of guidebooks to Rome over time has been performed This book treats the history of guidebooks to Rome from the Middle Ages up to the early twentieth century It is based on the results of the interdisciplinary research project Topos and Topography led by Anna Blennow and Stefano Fogelberg Rota From the case studies performed within the project it becomes evident that the guidebook as a phenomenon was formed in Rome during the later Middle Ages and early Renaissance The elements and rhetorical strategies of guidebooks over time have shown to be surprisingly uniform with three important points of development a turn towards a more user friendly structure from the seventeenth century and onward the so called Baedeker effect in the mid nineteenth century and the introduction of a personalized guiding voice in the first half of the twentieth century Thus the guidebook tradition is an unusually consistent literary oeuvre which also forms a warranty for the authority of every new guidebook In this respect the guidebook tradition is intimately associated with the city of Rome with which it shares a constantly renovating yet eternally fixed nature The

United Nations World Water Development Report UNESCO World Water Assessment Programme,2022-03-02

Accounting for approximately 99% of all liquid freshwater on Earth groundwater has the potential to provide societies with tremendous social economic and environmental benefits and opportunities However this natural resource is often poorly understood and consequently undervalued mismanaged and even abused In spite of its overall abundance groundwater remains vulnerable to over exploitation and pollution both of which can have devastating effects on the resource and its availability In the context of growing water scarcity across many parts of the world the enormous potential of groundwater and the need to manage it sustainably can no longer be overlooked The 2022 edition of The United Nations World Water Development Report describes the challenges and opportunities associated with the development management and governance of groundwater across the world
