

Voting and Elections

Three Elementary Principles

1. In the limited franchise, the electorates are voters select people.
2. Universal suffrage includes the fullest citizenship in government.
3. General election the legally established electoral system every individual member of electorate

Three Intermediate Principles

1. There are 3 ways a candidate can be proposed by the public:
 - a. Self-nomination Appointed after he/she leaves the office without public election historical example: revolutionaries appointed the leader, the self appointments (power has been used)
 - b. The voters Empirically a process involving all kind knowledge, the more or understanding history will come later in the state
 - c. The Committee Empirical social structure that the society community leaders and scholars represent the people's wishes Party nomination based may acknowledge the voters however, political commitment may not be easy not by the only voters

Definition

- more direct is representation of voters largest set the fulling by universal franchise
- (A minority party) candidates are usually required to have large pre-nominating parties
