Parliament. House of Commons, 1976 Cities and Their Vital Systems Advisory Committee on Technology and Society, 1989 Cities and Their Vital Systems asks basic questions about the longevity utility and nature of urban infrastructures analyzes how they grow interact and change and asks how when and at what cost they should be replaced Among the topics discussed are problems arising from increasing air travel and airport congestion the adequacy of water supplies and waste treatment the impact of new technologies on construction urban real estate values and the field of telematics the combination of computers and telecommunications that makes money machines and national newspapers possible Mathematics Today, 1998 2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee, 2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007/09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do

Murder in Notting Hill Mark Olden,2011-11-16 The truth about one of Britain s most infamous race murders has never been revealed At around midnight on May 17 1959 a white gang ambushed 32 year old Antiguan carpenter Kelso Cochrane on a Notting Hill slum street After a brief scuffle one of them plunged a knife into his heart The impact was as profound as the aftershock of Stephen Lawrence s murder more than forty years later The previous summer Notting Hill had been convulsed by race riots The fascists Sir Oswald Mosley and Colin Jordan were agitating in the area So the news of an innocent black man stabbed in west London reverberated from Whitehall to the Caribbean And when the police failed to catch the killer many black people believed it would have been different if the victim had been white Murder in Notting Hill is a tale of crumbling tenements transformed into a millionaires playground of the district s fading white working class and of a veil finally being lifted on the past Part whodunnit part social history it reveals startling new evidence about the murder

History of the Book in Australia Volume 3 Craig Munro,2006-07 This new volume in UQP s History of the Book in Australia series explores Australian book production and consumption from 1946 to the present day In the immediate postwar era most books were imported into a colonial market dominated by British publishers Paper Empires traces this fascinating and volatile half century using wide ranging research oral history and memoir to explore the worlds of book publishing selling and reading After 1945 Australian publishing went from a handful of fledgling businesses to the billion dollar industry of today with thousands of new titles each year and a vast array of imported books Publishing s postwar expansion began with the baby boom and the increased demand for school texts with independent houses blossoming during the 1960s and 70s followed by the current era dominated by global conglomerates All aspects of print culture are explored from authorship and editing to bookselling libraries and reading habits in the context of today s rapidly changing publishing landscape with its many technological challenges A wide range of expert contributors including book trade practitioners have produced this lively and indispensable account of our vital cultural industry
