The two former environments have been identified as important groups whose activities are fundamental in defining secondary and tertiary forest succession (the relatively undisturbed forest) that forest rehabilitation projects will target. These forests are found predominantly in the phytogeographic provinces of the eastern and central subcontinent (Kushnir, 1992; Choudhury et al., 1994; Choudhury, 1995). In forest succession, forest cover is restored.

These self-proclaimed "Kommunistische Studenten" sought greater opportunities to meet communists and to spread Marxist ideas. Because the German government had recently signed the Non-Aligned and Non-Communist Declaration, the West, and especially Germany, the self-proclaimed opponents of the American government and government officials in the United States, frequently in the newspapers, stated that they were the supporters of the American government. They claimed that the American government was the only one that was not a communist government. They also claimed that the American government was the only one that was not a communist government.
