The Legacy of a Troubled Past Bernard Cros, Mathilde Rogez, Gilles Teulie, 2022-06-07 Since the advent of democracy in 1994 South Africa has been engaged in an unprecedented exercise of national soul searching torn between the need to lay to rest centuries of racial conflict and the desire to come to terms with its traumatic history This book asks whether the country has begun to turn the corner on the legacy of collective hurt To do so it ranges in scope across 350 years of South African history encompassing the struggle against the apartheid regime the downfall of white supremacy the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the first 25 years of democracy up to more recent movements such as RhodesMustFall or the inquests into the 2012 Marikana massacre that point to the persistence of traumatic memory in contemporary society The authors assembled here set out to analyse the representation of such memory how it has been woven into narratives recorded preserved and questioned and how issues of individual and collective responsibility have been grafted onto it through the visual arts literature political discourse and public action In focusing on memory along with its derived forms of memorialization collective memory nostalgia or post memory our contributors pose a fundamental question is South Africa finally coming to the end of the post apartheid transition period Do the decades of memory work on racial violence and repression examined here hold out hope for the nation to make peace with its past

Politics at a Distance from the State Lucien van der Walt, Kirk Helliker, 2022-08-23 For decades most anti capitalist and anti imperialist movements identified radical transformation with capturing state power The collapse of these statist projects from the 1970s led to a global crisis of left and working class politics But crisis has also opened space for rediscovering alternative society centered anti capitalist modes of bottom up change operating at a distance from the state These have registered important successes in practice such as the Zapatistas in Mexico and Rojava in Syria They have been a key influence on movements from Occupy in United States to the landless in Latin America to anti austerity struggles in Europe and Asia to urban movements in Africa Their lineages include anarchism syndicalism autonomist Marxism philosophers like Alain Badiou and radical popular praxis This path breaking volume recovers this understanding of social transformation long side lined but now resurgent like a seed in the soil that keeps breaking through and growing It provides case studies with reference to South Africa and Zimbabwe and includes a dossier of key texts from a century of anarchists syndicalists insurgent unionists and anti apartheid activists in South Africa Originating in an African summit of radical academics struggle veterans and social movements the book includes a preface from John Holloway

Knowledge and Change in African Universities Michael Cross, amasa ndofirepi, 2017-01-28 While African universities retain their core function as primary institutions for advancement of knowledge they have undergone fundamental changes in this regard These changes have been triggered by a multiplicity of factors including the need to address past economic and social imbalances higher education expansion alongside demographic and economic growth concerns and student throughput and success with the realization that greater participation has not meant greater equity Constraining these changes is largely the failure to recognize the encroachment of the profit motive into the academy or a shift from a public good knowledge learning regime to a neo liberal knowledge learning regime Neo liberalism with its emphasis on the economic and market function of the university rather than the social function is increasingly destabilizing higher education particularly in the domain of knowledge making it increasingly unresponsive to local social and cultural needs Corporate organizational practices commodification and commercialization of knowledge dictated by market ethics dominate university practices in Africa with negative impact on professional values norms and beliefs Under such circumstances African humanist progressive virtues e g social solidarity compassion positive human relations and citizenship democratic principles equity and social justice and the commitment to decolonization ideals guided by altruism and common good are under serious threat The book goes a long way in unraveling how African universities can respond to these challenges at the levels of institutional management academic scholarship the structure of knowledge production and distribution institutional culture policy and curriculum

Organizations in Sub-Saharan Africa Terence Jackson, Lynette Louw, Dev K. Boojihawon, 2020-11-09 Trade between China and Africa is increasing year on year while the West increasingly debates the nature and implications of China's presence Yet little research exists at the organizational and community levels While western press reporting is overwhelmingly negative African governments mostly welcome the Chinese presence But what happens at the management level How are Chinese organizations run What are they bringing to communities What is their impact on the local job market How do they manage staff How are they working with local firms This book seeks to provide a theoretical framework for understanding Chinese organizations and management in Africa and to explore how their interventions are playing out at the organizational and community levels in sub-Saharan Africa Based on rigorous empirical research exploring emerging themes in specific African countries this book develops implications for management knowledge education and training provision and policy formulation Importantly it seeks to inform future scholarship on China's management impact in the world generally on Africa's future development and on international and cross cultural management scholarship Primarily aimed at scholars of international management with an interest in China and or in China in Africa this important book will also be of great interest to those working in the area of development studies international politics and international relations Relevance and Irrelevance Jan Strassheim, Hisashi Nasu, 2018-09-24 Relevance drives our actions and channels our attention it shapes how we make sense of the world and communicate with each other Irrelevance spreads a twilight which blurs the line between information we do not want to access and information we cannot access In disciplines as diverse as philosophy sociology the information sciences and linguistics relevance has been proposed as a key concept This book is the first to bring together the often unrelated traditions Researchers from different fields discuss relevance and relate it to the challenges of irrelevance which have so far been neglected despite their significance for our chances of making well informed decisions and understanding others The contributions focus on theoretical and conceptual questions on specific factors and fields and on practical and political implications of relevance and irrelevance as forces which are even stronger when they remain in the background
