Richard Ned Lebow: A Pioneer in International Relations Theory, History, Political Philosophy and Psychology

Richard Ned Lebow, Nathan Funk, 2016-09-13 This is the first of four volumes to be published as part of this book series on the life and work of Richard Ned Lebow In a career spanning six decades Richard Ned Lebow has made important contributions to the study of international relations political and intellectual history motivational and social psychology philosophy of science and classics He has authored coauthored or edited 30 books and almost 250 peer reviewed articles These four volumes are excerpts from this corpus The first volume includes an intellectual autobiography bibliography and assessments of Lebow's contributions to diverse fields by respected authorities It shows how a scholar's agenda evolves in response to world events and his efforts to grapple with them theoretically and substantively It elaborates pathways for addressing these events and their consequences in an interdisciplinary manner and offers new concepts and methods for doing so Richard Lebow's research bridges international relations psychology history classics political theory and philosophy of science He is author coauthor or editor of 34 books and almost 250 peer reviewed articles Contributors to the book are Simon Reich Mervyn Frost Janice Gross Stein Stefano Guzzini Markus Kornprobst Harald Müller Christian Wendt Robert English

The Tragic Vision of Politics Richard Ned Lebow, 2003-10-30 Is it possible to preserve national security through ethical policies Richard Ned Lebow seeks to show that ethics are actually essential to the national interest Recapturing the wisdom of classical realism through a close reading of the texts of Thucydides Clausewitz and Hans Morgenthau Lebow argues that unlike many modern realists classic realists saw close links between domestic and international politics and between interests and ethics Lebow uses this analysis to offer a powerful critique of post Cold War American foreign policy He also develops an ontological foundation for ethics and makes the case for an alternate ontology for social science based on Greek tragedy's understanding of life and politics This is a topical and accessible book written by a leading scholar in the field

Richard Ned Lebow: Essential Texts on Classics, History, Ethics, and International Relations Richard Ned Lebow, 2016-09-19 This last one out of four volumes by Richard Ned Lebow in this book series focuses on various fields of social sciences and their connection to international politics The author writes about topics in psychology tragedy and ethics All of these fields are being put into relation with political aspects especially international relations

The Rise and Fall of Political Orders Richard Ned Lebow, 2018-09-13 Presents a new theory of the rise evolution decline and collapse of political orders exploring the impact of late modernity upon the survival of democratic and authoritarian regimes

The Quest for Knowledge in International Relations Richard Ned Lebow, 2022-04-14 What kinds of knowledge do international relations theories seek How do they search for it and claim to have found it Lebow uses his answers to these questions to say something important about the theory project in IR and in the social sciences more generally

Richard Ned Lebow: Key Texts in Political Psychology and International Relations Theory Richard Ned

Lebow,2016-08-25 This third out of four volumes by Richard Ned Lebow in this book series includes texts on psychology and international relations causation counterfactual analysis The political psychology contributions draw on richer ancient Greek understandings of the psyche and offer novel insights into strategies of conflict management the role of emotions in international relations and the modern fixation on identity Richard Ned Lebow: Major Texts on Methods and Philosophy of Science Richard Ned Lebow,2016-09-01 This book about the philosophy of science is the second out of four volumes by Richard Ned Lebow in this book series It not only provides a useful overview of this broad topic but also provides deeper insight into specific topics like the philosophy of science causation epistemology and methods and especially on counterfactual analysis Constructing Cause in International Relations Richard Ned Lebow,2014-02-20 A novel approach to cause that builds on human reasons for acting and the consequences of behaviour by multiple actors Reason and Cause Richard Ned Lebow,2020-03-12 A cultural history of the concepts of reason and cause showing that they are culturally and historically local National Identities and International Relations Richard Ned Lebow,2016-10-20 Identity is the master variable for many constructivist scholars of international politics In this comparative study Richard Ned Lebow shows that states do not have identities any more than people do Leaders peoples and foreign actors seek to impose national identifications consistent with their political projects and psychological needs These identifications are multiple fluid and rise in importance as a function of priming and context Leaders are at least as likely to invoke national identifications as rationalizations for policies pursued for other reasons as they are to be influenced by them National identifications are nevertheless important because they invariably stress the alleged uniqueness of a people and its country and are a principal means of seeking status and building self esteem Lebow tracks the relative appeal of these principles the ways in which they are constructed how they influence national identifications and how they in turn affect regional and international practices

A Cultural Theory of International Relations Richard Ned Lebow,2008-12-11 An original theory of politics and international relations based on ancient Greek ideas of human motivation Between Peace and War Richard Ned Lebow,2020-08-31 This is an updated edition of the now classic original of the same title It has three new substantial chapters a prologue a chapter on new evidence on World War I and an epilogue The updated edition contains the now famous typology of international crisis the original critique of deterrence the emphasis on agency and the turn to political psychology to explain sharp departures from rational policy making The new chapters update and reevaluate these arguments and approach a critical hindsight assessment in light of post Cold War developments A Democratic Foreign Policy Richard Ned Lebow,2019-07-26 In 2020 America will elect a president deciding not just the trajectory of its national politics but the future of American foreign policy Will the Alt Right nationalist and mercantilist approaches to international trade that characterized Donald Trump s rise to power maintain its hold Or will the national security establishment ultimately prevail continuing the illusion of the indispensable nation In A Democratic Foreign Policy renowned IR scholar Ned Lebow draws upon decades of research and government experience to reject both options and set forth an alternative vision of American foreign policy one based on a tragic understanding of life and politics Lebow challenges the assumptions of establishment voices on both sides of the aisle and offers a probing rethinking of America's role in the world to disrupt the inertia of a bipartisan ideology that has dominated foreign policymaking since the days of Truman Emphasizing the importance of America's core values for shaping domestic and foreign policies A Democratic Foreign Policy provides a vision and blueprint for a new congress and president to reorient America's relationship with the world

Avoiding War, Making Peace

Richard Ned Lebow, 2017-08-23 This book recapitulates and extends Ned Lebow's decades long research on conflict management and resolution It updates his critique of conventional and nuclear deterrence analysis of reassurance and the conditions in which international conflicts may be amenable to resolution or failing that a significant reduction in tensions This text offers a holistic approach to conflict management and resolution by exploring interactions among deterrence reassurance and diplomacy and how they might most effectively be staged and combined

The Politics and Ethics of Identity Richard Ned Lebow, 2012-08-30 We are multiple fragmented and changing selves who nevertheless believe we have unique and consistent identities What accounts for this illusion Why has the problem of identity become so central in post war scholarship fiction and the media Following Hegel Richard Ned Lebow contends that the defining psychological feature of modernity is the tension between our reflexive and social selves To address this problem Westerners have developed four generic strategies of identity construction that are associated with four distinct political orientations Lebow develops his arguments through comparative analysis of ancient and modern literary philosophical religious and musical texts He asks how we might come to terms with the fragmented and illusionary nature of our identities and explores some political and ethical implications of doing so

Murder At The Monastery

Richard Ned LeBow, 2025-05-05 Murder at the Monastery is a fast paced cat and mouse game between opposing assassins and the police Inspector Khan of the Cambridge Constabulary cooperates with Italian police and MI 5 to prevent the export of military technology to Russia It is full of local English and Italian color and has a dramatic fast paced and clever plot

Nuclear Crisis Management

Richard Ned Lebow spells out the implications of historical experience for American perceptions of the place of crisis management in superpower strategic relations identifying and discussing three reasons for the outbreak of World War I preemption loss of control and miscalculated escalation he argues that all three are equally serious threats to peace and survival He documents how psychological stress in past crises has induced erratic dysfunctional behavior from national leaders even paralysis A nuclear crisis he argues would generate even more acute stress because of the unprecedented destructiveness of nuclear weapons and the extreme time pressure that leaders are likely to face

International Relations

Theory and the End of the Cold War Richard Ned Lebow, Thomas Risse-Kappen, 1995 This controversial set of essays evaluates and extends international relations theory in light of the revolutionary events of past years The contributors demonstrate how theoretical constructs did not anticipate Soviet foreign policies that led to the end of the Cold War

Ethics and International Relations Richard Ned Lebow, 2020-10-01 Lebow demonstrates that foreign policies consistent with generally accepted ethical norms are more likely to succeed and those at odds with them to fail Constructing original data sets and analyzing multiple case studies Lebow makes an empirical case for ethics in international relations His approach looks to create a productive dialogue between those who ask primarily ought questions and those who pose is questions The former want to establish appropriate criteria for the behaviour of state and non state actors and the discourses that lead to their policy decisions whereas scholars who pose is questions are concerned with how political actors behave and the principles and assumptions that might explain their behaviour Lebow bridges the gap between is and ought questions by making an instrumental argument in favour of ethical foreign policy He examines policymaking as well as policy offering ethical guidelines for policymaking that are likely to result in more successful policies

Rough Waters and Other Stories Richard Lebow, 2023-11-24 Rough Waters and Other Stories is a collection of original stories addressing different ethical questions and dilemmas An introduction makes connections among the stories puts them in personal and political perspective and anchors them in a tragic understanding of life and ethics The characters in Rough Waters and Other Stories some based on real historical people must make or finesse ethical choices some of them straight forward others tragic in nature Tragic choices involve trade offs between seemingly irreconcilable but important goals Alternatively they entail committing ourselves to decisions or policies whose outcomes are uncertain We are desperate to avoid tragic choices and prone to convince ourselves often in the face of good evidence that we can satisfy all of our desires or needs instead of making difficult choices between or among them We also tend to convince ourselves that our decisions or policies will succeed in proportion to the degree that we feel compelled to commit to them A standard trope of Greek tragedy think here of Oedipus is that our choices sometimes lead directly to the outcomes we are trying desperately to avoid
